Neighborhood Associations: The Best Way to Fight City Hall

In Princeton, the Neighborhood can be almost as important as the whole Community — and sometimes a lot more influential.

Last week, when Mrs. Kathleen Edwards rose before Borough Council as President of the John Witherspoon Civic Association and protested re-opening of a bar in a residential neighborhood, she represented a sturdy, 15-year-old neighborhood organization boasting an awesome list of successful confrontations with municipal authorities.

The J-W group isn't the only one. The oldest neighborhood association in Princeton is the Township's Hillcrest Civic Association, Inc., incorporated around 1950 and still strong. The Borough has the Jugtown Neighborhood Association, quiescent at the moment, but ready to be activated at the drop of a zoning variance.

It's geography and not the elementary school that gives the J. W. association its name: "The John (Street)-Witherspoon (Street) Civic Association" comprises everyone who lives in the area bounded on the south by Green Street and the north by Birch Avenue, from Witherspoon to Bayard Lane.

If you live in the area, you automatically belong. Mostly it is a black neighborhood, but membership is all-inclusive. There are about 1,200 members, according to Mrs. Edwards' tally. Monthly dues are whatever you can afford.

The Association sends flowers if you're in the hospital, visits you if you're ill at home. When Lloyd Terrace, the project for the elderly, opened its doors, every new tenant received J. W. flowers.

But the J. W. group is more than social amenities. The organization founded the Job Fete three years ago to help kids find summer jobs, and in this depressed summer of 1971 has placed 15 youngsters in clerical, construction and truck-driving jobs. Last year, 30 young people were placed through the Job Fete. Miss Mary Elizabeth Moore, of the executive committee, is the job expert.

The organization has also been driving for more black teachers in the public schools, has been active in the Youth Center and carries on a running campaign to make sure garbage and trash are properly collected throughout the neighborhood by Borough collectors.

In fact, Mrs. Edwards says it was through the organization's constant needling that garbage collections were shifted from early in the morning — when they woke everybody up — to later in the afternoon.

Besides Mrs. Edwards and Miss Moore, the Association's executive committee includes Sherman Bates, vice-president; Bryan Moore, parliamentarian; Frank Wells, secretary; George Holmes, treasurer, and Albert Hinds, Wilbert Brooks and Thomas Moore. All are Borough residents except Mr. Wells.

It's the executive committee that decides what work to do next. Long-range, the Association has such objectives as beautification of the area, and help for people who want to buy houses.

The beautification program began in the mid-1960s, Mrs. Ed-

PLAN FOR MIDDLE-INCOME HOUSING: Princeton Community Housing, Inc. plans to cluster its 240 middle-and-low-income apartments in the Township in these groupings, shown above. "Villages" of 2-3-4 bedroom apartments will be so arranged in the thick woods that the size of the project will not be apparent from any point within it. PCH purchased the land from William Hahn and from Trinity Church-All Saints Chapel. A disputed triangle of land is at the left of this sketch. Mr. Hahn and the M. T. Lucas Company both claim it. Lawyers say old deeds show it has been a disputed acreage since 1850.

PCH Presents Plans to Planning, Zoning Boards

In two almost identical hearings last week, Princeton Community Housing, Inc. made its first formal appearances before the community with a formal layout of middle-and-low-income homes.

After Wednesday's Regional Planning Board hearing, the board decided that the general layout of the site plan is satisfactory, but that interior walks, recreation areas, drainage, sewerage and utilities must be worked out in greater detail. (PCH is in the Engineering-Research zone and needs a use variance for residential construction, plus some setback variances.)

ship Zoning Board session, the board decided to continue the public hearing at 8 p.m. Tuesday, August 3 in Township Hall.

If Agle, Short and Holt and Morgan, architects for the 240-unit project can work out all details in time, the Planning Board may hold a special meeting in August. However, the board made no promises, and most members felt that the architects would be doing well to have everything completed by the board's September meeting.

Also, the Planning Board unanimously ruled PCH's property a major subdivision and legal notice of a major subdivision public hearing will be made.

Site is in Woods. William Short, of the architects' firm, made the presentations, describing the 35-acre wooded site, landlocked north of Terhune Road and east of Mt. Lucas.

To retain as much as possible of the thick woods with their 60-75 foot trees and to keep costs down, PCH plans to make three "swipes", constructing units in each one. This is better and cheaper than trying to save individual specimen trees, Mr. Short said, adding that the Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed agrees trees should be saved in clumps.

Within each cleared alcove will be a "village" of two, three and four-bedroom apartments. Each village is a cul-de-sac, with parking spaces up near the main road, and a circular walkway around the cul-de-sac. Toddlers' play-space will be under the trees that will be left standing in the circle.

One-bedroom units will be together in a six-story building in the south corner of the project. Mr. Short said that because of the sharp slope of the land, the top of this building is only one foot above the roof of two-story units in the northern section.

The Transcontinental Pipeline swath that bisects the tract cannot be built on by law, nor can a road be built along its length, Mr. Short explained.

PCH plans to plant the open space with grass and use it for recreation, perhaps a baseball diamond. "It would be great for touch football," Mr. Short commented.

About 20% of the site is covered by the project and its parking, Mr. Short told the Planning Board. He said this is about the same coverage as the Township's R-4 residential area nearby.

The 240 apartments will be divided as follows: 72 one-bedroom; 70 two-bedroom; 86 three-bedroom and 12 four-bedroom units in two-story Town Houses. Mixed in will be 50 Federal low-income housing units, leased to the Princeton Housing Authority. They will be scattered throughout the project.

Access to the property will be through the Township's "J" Road, and Alvin Gershen, planner for PCH, told both Planning Board and Zoning Board, that PCH and the Township will work out ways of paying for construction of the "J" Road, just as the municipality would do for any other property-owner.

Mr. Gershen estimated construction costs for the project at $5 million. He emphasized to the Planning Board that the project is not "public housing."

At the Zoning Board hearing, Mr. Gershen said that under normal market conditions, rent for these units would be $196 for one bedroom; $252 for two bedrooms, $336 for three and $392 for four.

Under the Federal interest-supplement program for which PCH has applied, the state's Housing Finance Agency will have to change PCH only 1% on a 50-year mortgage instead of 6 1/2% to 7%.

This will bring rents down to $134 for a one-bedroom apartment; $159 for two; $182 for three and $206 for four. With Housing and Urban Development rent subsidies, 20% of the units would pay rents starting at $40 for one bedroom and going to $60 for four.

PCH expects to pay real estate taxes to the Township. If the Township's assessment is high, PCH will explore other Federal and state assistance plans, Mr. Gershen said.

At both meetings, the principal objector was William Cherry, 24 Dempsey Avenue.

Associations Protect Residents' Interests

wards recalls, when Borough officials of that time, Mayor Henry S. Patterson and Councilmen, arranged for free grass and flower seed and free shrubs for people who had yards. Also, Borough trucks were made available to haul away trash.

Help for those who want to buy houses isn't so easy. The Association has a continuing policy of encouragement for black families who would like to become home-owners but obstacles are formidable.

The group has no loan fund. The executive committee would like to see a program in Princeton like one in Trenton, allowing a home-buyer to make a down-payment of as little as $2,300, paying off the down payment and a very long-term mortgage with regular monthly payments. Mrs. Edwards says, however, that Princeton's banks haven't been able to help.

John-Witherspoon's first and most dramatic success was the fight against urban renewal in the late 1950s. Bryan Moore gathered a few friends together to see if they could, quite literally, fight City Hall, because the proposed urban renewal program would have radically transformed the John-Witherspoon area and residents were bitterly opposed.

Mr. Moore and his group formed the Association in 1956. After a series of embattled public meetings between members of the Association on the one hand, and municipal and housing officials on the other, and a change of administration in Borough Hall, urban renewal was abandoned.

Threatened changes in the face of a neighborhood have also been successfully fought by the Jugtown Neighborhood Association. Named for a lottery once in the area, Jugtown encompasses the streets around the Nassau-Harrison intersection: Sergeant, Pelham, Prospect and Patton.

Like the J.W. group, Jugtown protested a public bar in a residential neighborhood. J.W.'s success in this quarter remains to be seen, but Jugtown won. The bar would have been on the corner of Nassau and Markham, where the Timothy Sheehan office building has been under construction in recent months.

Jugtown's residents, menaced by the possibility of a supermarket where Princeton Plaza now is, won from Borough Hall a zoning designation as "Neighborhood Business."

Charles St. John, now on the Borough Zoning Board; his wife Christine, Borough tax collector and once a candidate for Council; Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Cook and W. J. Shinn have all been active in these ventures. At present, however, no battles seem to lie ahead.

Across the line in the Township, Hillcrest residents keep a vigilant watch on Route 206 and its traffic problems. Hillcrest was formed around the development known as Hillcrest Estates. It straddles Route 206, extending as far west as the Township segment of Jefferson Road (but not Turner Court and its adjacent streets—for a historical reason), and including Laurel Circle, Laurel Road, Woodland Drive, Red Hill Road all the way to the Unitarian Church.

Turner Court is a non-member enclave within these boundaries. In the mid-1960s, the Hillcrest Civic Association played a leading role in preventing Horatio Turner from building apartments on that land. Mr. Turner settled for the single-family homes that are there now, but battles were fought in Township Hall before the issue was settled.

Currently, Hillcrest is urging the state to do something about the Ewing-206 intersection—perhaps a by-pass to reduce the hazard—and representatives of the group have gone to Trenton with Township officials to see who can be worked out.

So far, not much luck. The state also balks at Hillcrest's desire for reduced speed limits on Route 206 to damp down the accident potential. The group doesn't want 206 widened, however; too many Hillcrest property-owners would lose slices of land if the state widened the highway.

In a decisive defeat in 1968, Hillcrest had to watch Transcontinental Pipeline go ahead with the new 42-inch pipeline that Hillcrest property-owners fought for every inch.

But the group won its protest against construction of a "prestige gas station" where the Collins-Uhl-Hoisington office building now is, and it fought off expansion of a lumber yard where the Rug Mart now stands.

Householders who want to join Hillcrest pay a $10 initiation fee, plus $10 a year dues. The group keeps a "war chest" to finance its battles, and between skirmishes, follows such peacetime pursuits as election-time meetings with candidates for school-board or Township Committee, and semi-annual cocktail parties for the members.

Donald Rothenhaus, 501 Jefferson Road, is president; William Sutphin, 6 Laurel Road, a member of the Princeton Regional Planning Board, is treasurer and Mrs. Donald O. Senenbach, 52 Laurel Road, is secretary.

In the past years, J. Alfred Seitz, assistant principal of the high school; former Township mayor Carl Schafer and former Township Committeeman Harry J. Volwieder have all been officers in Hillcrest.

When the alarm bells ring—or the rock bands turn on their amplifiers, as they did in Marquand Park to the dismay of Lovers Lane residents—the troops will come out to fight a single battle.

But it's the long-term watchfulness of permanent neighborhood organizations like the three described here, that has had the most lasting effect in Princeton.

Just Like Old Times At Kingston Bridge

It was just like old times — an accident at the Kingston Bridge. Ever since the state re-routed cars away from the old, accident-battered span over a wider and straighter one more than two years ago there hasn't been an accident at the bridge.

That perfect record was wiped out at 9:37 Tuesday morning when George R. Harsh, 63, of Kingston went over the bridge railing.

Mr. Harsh, on his way to the Jersey shore, sideswiped the front fender of another car and sailed over the guard rail at top of photo, just nicking the top. His car landed on the steep slope and came to rest against the remnant of a stone and concrete wall.

Assisting Mr. Harsh, still in the car but not visible, are Ptl. Olindo Carnevale and Township Traffic Officer Sgt. Anthony Nini (right). Unscratched, Mr. Harsh was ticketed for drunken driving.

TOPICS Of The Town

SWAT OR FOG?

Mosquitoes on Agenda. Control of mosquitoes through fogging techniques is scheduled for discussion this Wednesday at a special meeting of the Township Board of Health.

Acting Mayor Thomas Hartmann told Township Committee Monday night that experts from Rutgers University, the Mercer County Mosquito Control Commission and the state would appear to exchange views.

The question of fogging has disturbed many Princeton residents in recent weeks (see "Mailbox," page 10).

In another part of the ecological forest, David Rahr of the Friends of the Princeton Environment asked Committee about the proposed re-channeling of part of Harry's Brook between Snowden Lane and Meadowbrook Drive.

The organization is apprehensive that re-channeling will cause erosion and silting of the new channel.

Administrator Joseph R. Nini told Mr. Rahr there wasn't even an ordinance in preparation. The municipality's Conservation Commission will talk it over with the Township Engineer as information becomes available, he said. He suggested that Mr. Rahr keep in touch with the Conservation Commission, which isn't scheduled to meet until September.

The Township decided to pick up some extra change by purchasing 90-day certificates of deposit with $300,000 of Township money. High bidder with 5 5/8% interest was New Jersey National Bank (low bid: 4.5%). This is fine, except that Committeeman John D. Wallace is a vice-president of New Jersey National and therefore disqualified himself, both in the decision to select that bank, and in Monday night's vote to approve.

With Mayor James A. Floyd on vacation and Committeeman Dean Chace away on business and Mr. Wallace disqualified, only Messrs. Hartmann and Jay Bleiman were left to vote approval. Not enough.

So the certificates, purchased July 8, will go on grinding out interest even though they haven't been legally approved. The vote, then will be taken again August 2.

Committee introduced an ordinance providing for resurfacing of several Township streets at a cost of $19,700. Many, such as Dodds Lane, are relatively new. To Mr. Bleiman's question, Mr. Nini replied that repeated opening of streets by utility companies weakens the surface.

Traffic Safety has recommended a sidewalk on the west side of Ewing between Harrison Street North and Franklin. The Township expects Regional Planning Board recommendations in about two months on sidewalk priorities. The municipality has $25,000 already in the capital budget for walks.

QUIET?

Well, Harmony Anyway. About 100 people turned out, in sun and shower Saturday evening for the Flight Two friends-and-neighbors picnic in Marquand Park.

Sound was the subject, harmony the goal. Flight Two had extended the invitation at last week's Borough Council meeting, hoping that a nice informal gathering of Lovers Lane residents, Marquand Park neighbors and young Flight Two'ers who like good, loud hard rock, would result in harmony.

Nothing concrete was decided. But Barrie Peterson of Flight Two, said his young colleagues realized "They must be much more sensitive to which park they hold rock concerts in (Battlefield Park this weekend) and how to approach neighbors of the park."

Battlefield neighbors have all been personally invited to this Saturday's concert, and Flight Two is armed with a permit from the state.

Attending last Saturday's picnic were Mrs. Eleanor Marquand Delaney and her sister, Miss Sarnia Marquand, members of the family that donated Marquand Park to the Borough. Mrs. Delaney said she enjoyed herself very much.

Noise level was the chief concern of Marquand neighbors, although one resident did mention parking snarls. Whether Marquand will again be the site of a rock concert and whether volume will be de-amplified, nobody seemed really to know. "It would be up to the musicians..." was one comment.

But it was a lovely picnic. Councilman Alice Male, Charles Cornforth and Martin P. Lombardo all came, and so did Township Committeeman Jay Bleiman. Mr. Lombardo even got into a soccer game with some of the young hosts.

"The idea behind Flight Two," explained Mr. Peterson, "is that kids themselves will develop the ideas and define the programs and do the whole thing, and that's exactly what happened in this Marquand incident. It's been a learning, creative kind of experience."

PLATFORM CHALLENGED

By Democratic Candidate. Robert Hendry, Borough Councilman who's running for the State Assembly as Democratic candidate for the Suburban Mercer - Hunterdon district, challenged his party's platform this week.

It's fine for the consumer and the elderly, Mr. Hendry charged, but "lacking in direction on young voters."

The candidate also said "I feel the Democrats should pursue a broad-based equitable tax (income tax) coupled with a guaranteed reduction of the property tax."

Republicans and Democrats have both ducked the income-tax, Mr. Hendry charged, New Jersey's "hallow house of taxation discriminates against property-owners, and this 'is-crimination is passed along to tenants as increased rent," he said.

Where the new 10-year-old voter is concerned, Mr. Hendry wants Democrats to make changes "that will insure the full rights and responsibilities of citizenship for 18-year-olds" by eliminating laws that keep them from serving on juries or running for the state legislature.

The 18-year-olds can, in New Jersey, run for school boards or for local governing bodies, Mr. Hendry said. However, they cannot enter into contracts, buy land or own a home, and Mr. Hendry said he wants legal recognition across the board for the new young voters.

He will attend the Democrats' platform committee meeting this Thursday to present his views formally, he said.

IS PRINCETON HISTORIC?

Put It On The Map. To establish once and for all that Princeton is indeed of some historic worth, New Jersey's Department of Environmental Protection has suggested the designation of about half the Borough (on each side of Nassau) and a strip of the Township along the Princeton-Kingston Road as a "Historic District."

David Poinsett, of the Department, presented the suggestion Monday night to Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley and Council. Mr. Poinsett was accompanied by Mrs. Constance Greiff, Princeton architecture historian; Mrs. Hasler Whitney of the Princeton Battlefield Area Preservation Society and Roger McDonough, state librarian.

"I'd like to be in favor," commented Mayor Cawley at his Tuesday press conference. "I'm just concerned about all the possible red tape."

Federal and state laws both provide for the "Historic District" designation. In such a District, any project financed by state, Federal or local funds would need review by the Commissioner of Environmental Protection.

Keep It This Way

Canadian front
Moved down this way,
Made July
As cool as May.

The weather man appears to be making a determined effort to balance the usual number of hot, muggy July days with a series of cooler and more pleasant ones. Welcome relief for all. The current weather should be with us through Friday at least, with warmer weather due over the weekend.

That is Richard Sullivan, at the moment.

His recommendation or his disapproval wouldn't be binding, but as Mayor Cawley observed, it would provide local historical societies with some clout if a landmark were endangered.

Referring to red tape possibilities, Mayor Cawley pointed out that Princeton Community Housing, Inc. may one day build, with state and possibly Federal help, a housing project in the Borough. How would the "Historic District" designation affect that project?

Council may act on the question at its August 10 meeting, Mayor Cawley said.

STEREO SYSTEM STOLEN

From Ivy Club. A stereo system including tape recorder, speakers and head phones valued at $400 was stolen between 5:30 and 10:30 p.m. Sunday from the Ivy Club, 43 Prospect Avenue.

Borough police report that a second floor window was forced open to get inside. They identified the owner as Mark Van Fleet.

Township police report the theft Thursday of a $200 Pentax camera from 1940 Hall on the University campus. The owner, Maarifin Hufin told police that his room was locked when he left at 7:30 in the morning but upon his return at 4:30 in the afternoon the door was unlocked. Ptl. Jerry Offredo investigated.

NUDE DRIVER CHARGED

By Borough Police. A 43-year-old Lambertville man has been charged by Borough police for driving on Palmer Square without any clothes on. Police received a call early Thursday afternoon from a young woman who reported a man driving in the nude. She gave them the car's license number.

The same day, Ptl. Thomas

Michaud arrested Robert A. Winn in Lambertville, and charged him with open lewdness. Released in $250 bail, Mr. Winn will appear here in court August 4.

BOROUGH MAN CHARGED

For Carrying Concealed Weapon. Rupert R. Williams, 34, 116 Witherspoon Street, has been charged by Borough police with carrying a concealed weapon. He is free on $100 bail.

Police report finding a straight razor in Williams' possession last week when they went to his house to serve an assault and battery warrant against him signed by Joanne Benson, 28 Green Street, Ptl. Gerald Patterson and Ptl. Kerry Klink were the arresting officers.

BUS WINDOW BROKEN

By Juveniles. The rear window of a Tiger Bus Line bus was shattered last week by four rock-throwing juveniles. Cost of the replacement: $95. Cost for labor: $64.

Joseph Buckley told police that he was sitting in the drivers' room of the Tiger Bus Line on John Street Thursday night around 9:30 when he heard a loud noise. He investigated and reported seeing four juveniles running toward Witherspoon Street. A few minutes later he discovered the broken window.

TWO DRIVERS INJURED

In Cherry Hill Accidents. Two young men were seriously injured last week in separate single-car accidents on Cherry Hill Road.

Monday morning at 11:40, Damiano DiFlorio, 22, 86 Birch Avenue, driving a dump truck owned by Castoro Co. of Hopewell, lost control on a curve, crossed the center line and slammed into a tree on the opposite side. He was admitted to Princeton Hospital's intensive care unit for treatment of severe internal injuries.

The entire right side of his truck was damaged and police

Middle School Head Defends Goals, Programs

In a formal statement to the press, augmented by a lengthy press conference, Middle School Principal Thornton Grove replied this week to critics of the Middle School who had expressed their views in a full-page advertisement in the July 15 issue of TOWN.

Mrs. Ruth Lotz, Guidance Counsellor Co-ordinator for the Middle School, participated in the press conference. Mr. Grove and Mrs. Lotz spoke to six subjects which had been part of the advertisement: Testing, the Multi-age Program, Discipline, Reading, a Learning Disability Specialist and Guidance.

"I have tried to be honest and open about our programs and goals," Mr. Grove said in his statement. "I have tried to reach people through P.T.O. programs, parent coffees, individual conferences and parent-teacher-student meetings. Such expressions as the July 15 ad indicate that we are not reaching everyone."

"I regret that the people who chose to place the ad did not first verify the alleged 'facts' which in reality are half-truths and innuendoes. I further regret that the anonymous nature of the ad itself does not allow me to respond directly to our critics."

Testing. All sixth graders, when they funnel into the Middle School from their respective elementary schools, are given the Iowa Tests of Basic Skills. (These tests have been administered, to Township pupils at least, under the old Township school system, for about 12-15 years. They were continued when Borough and Township systems merged.)

"Iowas" measure basic skills: reading, spelling, punctuation, math, map-reading.

In eighth grade, all students are given the Differential Aptitude Test to help the student choose the courses he will take in high school.

Also, the 310 students in Multi-Age (6-7-8th grades) are given tests, chiefly in math, at the end of each 'unit' throughout the school year to see where the student needs help. Reading tests are given in June.

Mr. Grove conceded that Iowa scores, overall, may have dropped.

"I am not personally convinced the Iowas measure the skills we're after," he declared. He also said that "no statistically valid studies of the Iowas have been made. A study was made by a member of the Middle School staff, but Mr. Grove declined to say who it was."

Mrs. Lotz added her dissatisfaction with the Iowas, and suggested a re-examination throughout the school system, of standardized tests that are given. She suggested exploration of the "STEP" tests, for example.

Asked why the Iowas were still used after so many years if there is staff dissatisfaction, Mr. Grove and Mrs. Lotz both said they preferred not to comment although Mrs. Lotz added that not everyone thinks the kindergarten-through-12th-grade re-evaluation of testing is needed.

"A test is to find out a child's particular weakness and help him move forward," the principal said. "You don't need a standardized test to do that — in fact, some believe teacher-made tests do it better."

"I question the idea of comparing Princeton to national norms," he continued. "It comes down to a status thing (our scores are better than yours!) when the important thing is using the test to help beef up an individual child."

Multi-Age: "To indicate (as the ad did) that no support, no help and no interest was shown by administration is inaccurate," Mr. Grove declared. "I spent many hours with multi-age teachers during the five months the program was being developed, attended some planning sessions during the summer and worked with them during the school year. Communication, observation and evaluation have been ongoing since the inception of the program. Proof of this ongoing process is the fact that some restructuring has been planned for '71-'72."

Mr. Grove stated that there is a waiting list of about 25 families who want children placed in Multi-Age. Last year nine of the 310 students were withdrawn from Multi-Age by parents, he said. Six moved into Multi-Age from the waiting list. Of the 310 students enrolled in June of last year, who were asked if they wanted to be in Multi-Age, during '70-'71, 15 asked to drop out and go back to standard courses.

"But schools never ask students whether they want to stay in regular classes," Mr. Grove observed.

To the charge that only one of the three Multi-Age teaching teams survived intact, Mr. Grove replied that Middle School enrollment has decreased from 1,100 to 940 (although it is expected to be 975 by this September), and the staff has been cut back correspondingly.

He added that when Multi-Age was first proposed, more teachers wanted to participate in the program than the school could use.

Regarding evaluation, Mr. Grove stated that all Multi-Age teachers listed goals (how does pupil work with peers? is he increasingly able to work by himself? is he moving at a rate appropriate to him?) and asked how well the goals had been met.

Afternoon and evening meetings were held for parents throughout the year, he said.

Discipline. "Like all schools, we have discipline problems," the principal stated. "The school is a microcosm of our community and we need community support in dealing with these problems. Initiating guidelines for the pupils has not been adequate. Implementation of guidelines requires the involvement of the total staff, parents and students."

Mr. Grove explained that discipline cases are considered on an individual basis. "We may have a parent conference, we may call in the juvenile officer, or we may just chew the kid out," he said.

Fighting used to bring automatic suspension, but the school has eliminated the "automatic," Mr. Grove said. "You must first find out why that particular fight occurred."

Weapons, serious threats or unprovoked attacks mean that the Township's juvenile police officer is called. Perhaps the county's Juvenile Conference Committee — to which Mrs. Lotz belongs — may be involved. Often the home needs to be helped, Mrs. Lotz added.

Extortion and stealing have been handled on a school-wide basis, Mr. Grove continued, with open discussions in all classrooms. "Learning to deal with problems is part of a kid's education," he said. He believes that these school-wide class discussions did decrease the incidence of extortion and stealing.

Reading. The Middle School Committee (teaching and non-teaching staff) decided the improvement of pupils' reading should be done by the whole staff, day-by-day, not only by sending a student to a special class several times a week.

Learning Disability. The school has been looking for a qualified full-time Learning Disability Specialist for two years, Mr. Grove said.

"We have been unwilling to compromise on this assignment: we have been looking for the best person available. Meantime, a highly competent learning disability specialist from another school in the district has been coming to the Middle School one day a week to undertake a limited number of diagnostic evaluations and talk with teachers. This arrangement will continue until we find someone."

Guidance. "We have no intention of eliminating our Guidance Department: it is extremely valuable here and we have increased the staff from three to four," Mr. Grove said.

At the Middle School age, he continued, all youngsters need guidance from teachers as well as specialists. Frequently a child will confide in the school nurse, a favorite teacher or a custodian, he said, and Mrs. Lotz added that the guidance staff would like each teacher to have "a guidance point of view" toward boys and girls.

Guidance counsellors will go into classrooms more than they have in the past, the principal said, to see how a child acts in class and to talk about guidance problems with the teacher and the whole class.

Turning to the ad's charge that "problem children" were permanently assigned to the library and that "outraged faculty" got no response from the administration, Mr. Grove said, "No youngster is ever placed without prior consultation of the appropriate staff member. It is totally inconceivable that our library which we view as an educational center, would be allowed to be used as a keeping place for 'problem' children." He said he did not recall any "outraged faculty" protests to him.

Students not taking a foreign language are allowed to use the library for independent study he said, and the student's presence in the library is "periodically reviewed as a matter of course."

In the Middle School, every child has every period filled. There are no "study halls." A child with math difficulties who doesn't take a foreign language, might be assigned a double-period for math, Mr. Grove said. He explained that pupils have no choice in courses, except for foreign language and some choice in art-music-shop-domestic science. Sixth graders, however, do not even have a choice in this area, he said.

Help Needed To Save Old Coward House

Walter Dimitruk of Princeton Junction is making a brave effort to save the old Coward House. The two-story, wood frame, slate roof house is located in a corner of the site of the new West Windsor High School at Hightstown and Clarksville Roads.

The school boards wants to tear it down but Mr. Dimitruk would like to see it preserved as an old landmark and used as a museum, possibly to house old pictures, desks and other memorabilia.

"All the old houses are being torn down in West Windsor," he says. "There aren't many left."

In an earlier appeal for aid, Mr. Dimitruk reports getting six replies, two offering financial help. The house would be far removed from the school and the school board will let it remain but first they want me to show some proof of interest, Mr. Dimitruk comments. "I'm running against time."

Anyone who wishes to donate items to the museum or would like to help financially are urged to write Mr. Dimitruk at 10 Penn Lyle Road, Princeton Junction or call him at 799-1786.

described it as a total loss. It was raining and the roads wet at the time of the mishap. Ptl. Jerry Offredo, who investigated for Township police, said that he hasn't been able to discuss the accident yet with the driver.

About a half hour before midnight Thursday, Crighton Adams, 18, of 16 Newlin Road, skidded into a tree not far from the driveway of the Unitarian Church.

He was admitted to Princeton Hospital suffering from extensive facial bone injuries. His jaw was brokeo.

His car left 96 feet of skid marks before ramming a tree head-on 475 feet west of State Road. The front end was totaled. The mishap is still under investigation by Ptl. Robert Nielsen, who has not yet been able to talk to the driver.

Four In Car Injured. Four persons were injured Saturday night when their car was struck on the right side at the intersection of Nassau and Harrison Streets.

Pier K. Tang, 32, 69 Jefferson Road, the driver, was treated at Princeton Hospital for lacerations of the eye and knee. The most severely injured of his three passengers was L.B. Lio, 24, 220-A Marshall Street, who was admitted for internal injuries, a fractured rib and lacerations.

Fangner Lee, 30, 217 King Street, and Yang-Chan Chen, 29, of Woodside, N.Y., were treated for lacerations.

Ptl. Robert Mucciarelli ticketed the other driver, Timothy M. Walker, 19, of East Brunswick, for disregarding a red light. Both cars were extensively damaged and had to be towed away.

3 Collide on Hill. Early last week, three cars collided on Bruer's Hill on Lawrence Road.

Yvonne J. Aronson, 38, 55 Woodside Lane, driving a station wagon, received lacerations and contusions. Her son, Barry, 13, sustained a bloody nose and chipped tooth. In addition, six sutures were needed to close a laceration of his eyelid.

Mattie A. Carswell, 43, of Trenton, another driver, sustained contusions of the forehead. All were treated at Princeton Hospital and released.

Also involved in the accident was John F. Homrighausen, 25, 117 Library Place.

According to the investigating officer, Sgt. Robert Heacock, the Carswell car was attempting to pass the Homrighausen car. When Mrs. Carswell saw she couldn't make it, she braked suddenly, swerved over the double yellow line and struck the Aronson car coming in the opposite direction.

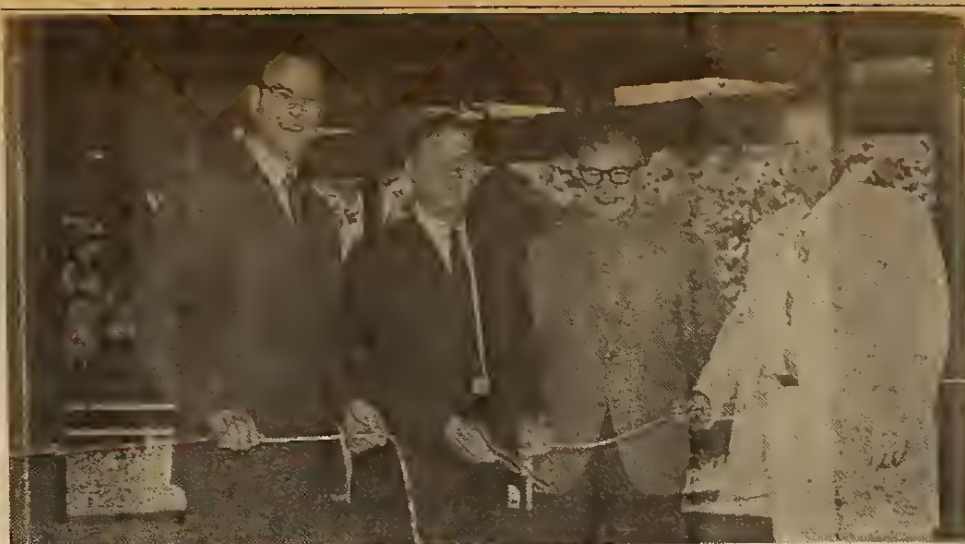

The Carswell car then went into a spin, re-crossed the road, and drited backwards until it struck the front of the Homrighausen car. She was charged with improper passing.

BUREAU BRINGS CHARGES

Against duPont, Philadelphia. Joseph M. Boyd, president of Consumer Bureau, a Princeton-based non-profit consumer service organization, has filed suit against chemical giant E. I. duPont de Nemours Co., Inc., of Delaware, and the city of Philadelphia for illegal dumping of waste materials on the continental shelf off the coast of New Jersey.

In a civil action filed in the Delaware Federal District Court in Wilmington, Mr. Boyd asked the court to enjoin both duPont and Philadelphia from, "... dumping waste materials of any kind in the Atlantic Ocean upon or above the Delaware or New Jersey continental shelf."

In addition to these two partners in the defense, Mr. Boyd's suit also named president of duPont Charles B. McCoy, Philadelphia mayor James H. J. Tate, city solicitor Levy Anderson and water commissioner Samuel S. Baxter.

As the fourth suit in a series of civil actions against dumping practices, Mr. Boyd is seeking to uphold a 1953 Act of Congress which gives adjacent state laws the status of federal law on the outer continental shelf. Mr. Boyd also has a suit pending in Federal District Court in Manhattan seeking an injunction against continental shelf ocean dumping which originates within New York Harbor.

First hearing in the suits is scheduled for 10 a.m. August 23 at the Federal Courthouse in Wilmington.

Mr. Boyd originally sued only towing companies in Delaware Bay, hoping to arrange a voluntary consent decree which would have required all ocean-bound waste materials transported through Delaware territorial waters to be towed about 100 miles out to sea, beyond the continental shelf, before being dumped.

But when the duPont and Philadelphia legal departments came to the aid of the towing companies, Mr. Boyd said he accepted the challenge and named duPont and Philadelphia and four of their officials as defendants in the parallel suit.

PARK PICNIC PLANNED

For Saturday Afternoon. Flight Two will hold a rock, arts and picnic festival for all ages starting 3 p.m. this Saturday, at the Princeton Battlefield.

Those interested in sharing their arts and crafts, toys, or musical instruments are urged to bring them for fun or display and enjoy the music by Harvest. Individuals are asked to bring their own food.

Parking at the Battlefield is limited, so bikes or car pool arrangements would ease congestion.

Also at Flight Two, Thursday, July 22 another meeting will be held at 6:15 p.m. to discuss setting up a radio program. Those interested in sharing their ideas are welcome. Flight Two is located at 173 Nassau Street, 924-4595.

THREE ARE FINED

In Borough Court: Three persons were fined Monday in Borough traffic court.

Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr. fined Alexander E. Sharp 2d, 29, 19 Jefferson Road, $15 for failing to keep right at an intersection, and Neil R. Ross, 19, 76 Alexander Street, $15, emerging from a private drive

... A Gift of Roses

A gift of 100 "Blaze" ramblers roses will be presented to Princeton Township by former Township Magistrate Glen B. Miller Jr., it was announced Monday night at Township Committee meeting.

Mr. Miller thinks the wire fence that separates Community Park's playing fields from the curve of Route 206 is unsightly, to say the least. His roses are to be planted along on the highway side of the fence to grow up over the fence and conceal its functional charms.

"I don't want to look a gift horse in the mouth, but we have a lot of people in the Township concerned about sprays," warned Committeeman Jay Bleiman, "will these roses need spraying?"

The question was tabled, but the roses enthusiastically accepted.

Elwood M. Schley, 17, 1000 Kingston Road, paid $10 for driving with no registration in his possession.

School Ads Unconvincing.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

A recent series of ads in TOWN TOPICS attempts to convince me that our public schools are in dire straits, and that this is the result of a deep-eyed "conspiracy" on the part of "the administration," and presumably of a majority of the school board.

I am unconvinced.

Opinions (in my opinion) are what these ads convey. Altho we are given a long list of "facts" and "questions," many of the facts are questionable (I have checked out a few) and most of the questions are rhetorical; they are used to imply conspiracy, bad faith, perhaps even criminal misconduct on the part of elected and appointed public officials.

I would like to suggest an additional "fact"; this kind of propaganda approach to the governance of our schools can only make more problems, and cannot solve anything. Could this be the intention? I cannot quite bring myself to believe this, but it is hard to see how creating hysteria will aid in a rational solution of our problems.

I would also like to suggest a question: have the persons behind these ads asked their questions of the appropriate school officials, at a time and place, and in a form in which they could be answered? Do they really want answers?

We have problems in Princeton; they involve our schools as well as the community as a whole, and badly need solving. Our schools are not perfect, nor is any individual responsible for their performance (nor is the writer of this letter).

The kind of intemperate and (I believe) misguided and misinformed attacks we are now seeing actually have the effect of preventing me and many others like me from seriously questioning what is going on in the schools; we cannot associate ourselves with this sort of melodrama, yet find our attempts at reasonable inquiry drowned out by shot-gun blasts that are aimed more at controversy than at genuine questioning.

Indeed, I suspected for a fleeting moment that the ads had actually been inserted by the school administration, as a red-herring to divert attention of reasonable Princetonians from the actual issues. A ridiculous idea, but no more so than the idea that these lists of self-styled "facts" and so-called "questions" will do anything for the education of our children but make it worse.

Yes, I begin to think that there is a conspiracy affecting our schools; not one involving the administration and the School Board, but rather involving people whose aim is to destroy, rather than to improve.

Who are they? What do they really want? Most important, are they willing to address themselves to real issues, in a rational and honest inquiry after the truth, with a clear identification of everyone's real gripes and objectives?

If so, I hope they will adopt very different tactics from now on, tactics that I and others can participate in without feeling that we are asked to choose sides before we know just what game we are playing.

Our schools are too important to play games with.

Call for Open Forum.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

This is an open letter to Mrs. Green, Mrs. Davidson, and Mrs. McCloskey:

It's a beautiful summer and we were all enjoying it. It's too hot to get worked up over your series of half truths and distorted "facts."

Last summer, a group of interested citizens (students, parents, teachers, administrators) who had serious questions about Princeton High School, conducted a weekly series of Open Forum discussions. We sat around the table, looked each other in the eye and talked frankly and openly. We did not always agree but some issues were actually clarified.

I might suggest that you donate the massive funds being expended for full page ads ($350 so far) to Princeton High School Scholarship Fund and initiate another Open Forum. Invite the interested parties, they have come before and will again!

ROSALIND R. FRISCH
145 Ridgeview Circle

Editor's Note: The "Open Forum" to which Mrs. Frisch refers was held regularly throughout most of last summer. It was open to the public and press. Participants, who gathered informally in the library of Community Park school, represented almost every shade of opinion concerning Princeton's schools. They took turns keeping detailed records, or "minutes" of their conversations.

Those who attended the Forums included, besides Mrs. Frisch, Dr. Richard Magee, Mrs. Philip Cruickshank, Mrs. Ann Johnston, Miss Florence Burke (who was at that time principal of Princeton High School), Mrs. J. Stuart Hunter, Mr. Alden Dunham, Mr. Hassler Whitney, and PHS staff members Frank Soda, George Petrillo, Mrs. Ethel Thomas, Robert Arbogast, David Carr (more recently of the Middle School faculty), and Superintendent Philip E. McPherson.

School Facts Not Accurate.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

We were quite disturbed at the July 15 advertisement in the TOWN TOPICS "Multi Muddles in the Middle School." One of the reasons for our concern was that several of the "facts" were not accurate. In Multi Age this year we were taught to investigate "facts" before accepting them as truths.

The administration's "Do your own thing" learning and teaching philosophy, which they criticized, has allowed all students in Middle School the chance to choose which kind of learning experience is best for them. For us, this year's learning experience has been rewarding.

Some students did drop out, but only because they needed more teacher direction. In reply to the "fact" that only one Multi Age teaching team remained intact, most teaching teams, regular classes or Multi Age, break up at the end of the year in the Middle School.

It is claimed that the administration did not observe or show interest in Multi Age. This simply is not true. The administration did observe the Multi Age programs and also had several discussions with the students and in addition our teachers did observe the students' individual progress through careful observation and testing.

In reply to the "fact" that Multi Age students took no skill or aptitude tests: Students in our Multi Age took skill and aptitude tests at the beginning and end of the year. Students were involved in changing the students' curriculum, as students' needs changed.

We were bothered by the fact that they did not take the trouble to distinguish between the three separate Multi Age houses which are quite different in concept. In this letter we were talking primarily about the Community Park Multi Age in which we had direct experience.

We think that Parents of Princeton School Children should investigate the facts more before they print them.

Policy Changes Needed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Can nothing stop our apparently self-willed Board of Education from destroying Princeton's once-great High School and making a shambles of the Middle Schools?

Policy changes are urgently needed if these schools are to be redeemed. Support our teachers and the many distressed parents, students, and tax-payers by insisting that the School Board take responsible action at once, before it is too late.

Judge's Lateness Questioned.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I was summoned to appear at the Municipal Court of the Borough of Princeton at 7:30 p.m. on July 19, 1971 to answer to a traffic violation.

The summons also stated that failure to appear on the prescribed date and time, without prior notification, would result in a fine, a possible warrant for my arrest and the likelihood of my license being revoked.

These consequences were enough to convince me to arrive at 7:25 p.m. on the required date, and with only five minutes until the stated time of appearance, I was quite surprised to find the courtroom door locked and the lights off.

To make certain that there had not been an adjournment which, for one reason or another, I had omitted to take note of, I asked the officer at the desk in the Police Department.

ment if the court was indeed going to convene at 7:30. To this I received an affirmative reply, and so joined the four other people waiting.

At 7:32 when there were still no signs of life in the courtroom I asked the officer what was causing the delay. He replied rather curtly that the Judge would "be here as soon as he can". Evidently the difficulty in traveling three or four blocks in Princeton Borough at that time of the evening was quite apparent to him, and anyone engaged in such could not be expected to arrive at a given destination at a certain time.

The gentleman waiting next to me on the bench, it turned out, has come from Manhattan, New York to contest his parking ticket, and for a short time it looked like his journey was futile. The courtroom was opened at 7:38 and proceedings began approximately two minutes later.

While taking a Human Relations course at University I was taught that if someone was late for an appointment, he conveyed to the person or persons waiting the impression that they were not worth spending his time on.

I received that impression while waiting outside the courtroom.

Don't Fog Here.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The Friends of the Princeton Environment wish to express strong objections to the Mercer County Mosquito Commission's fogging of the Princeton Wildlife Refuge on Monday, July 12.

This was done against the recommendations of the Princeton Township Conservation Commission, which operates the Refuge, and those of the Executive Director of the Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association, Mr. Ian Walker.

The Mosquito Commission

logged indiscriminately without first making a survey of possible breeding grounds and destroying these. They relied entirely on the records of a single trap located near the Refuge. The threat of an outbreak of malaria was used as an excuse for this procedure.

Dr. Goldfield, the Director of the Division of Laboratories of the State Department of Health, told Mr. Walker that New Jersey had never had an indigenous case of malaria and that there was no threat at this time.

Reliance on fogging as a mosquito control is very questionable. Prof. Daniel Jobbins of the Rutgers Dept. of Entomology, at a meeting of the Air Pollution sub-committee of the Delaware Raritan T.B. and Respiratory Disease Association held Feb. 18, 1971, stated that "Mosquito fogging is the least important method of handling the problem, the cost per unit effect is very high, and the duration effect is negligible." Rutgers discourages fogging because of its bad effect on the human respiratory system.

Indiscriminate fogging in an ecologically sensitive area such as the Wildlife Refuge should be prohibited. The Conservation Commission, at the inception of the Refuge, set up a program to control the mosquito problem by natural means. Obviously, health threats must be prevented from spreading, but not by wasting natural resources while using ineffectual methods.

The Friends of the Princeton Environment urge that such waste be prevented in the future.

Stop the Spraying.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

On the morning of Monday, July 12th the Mercer County Mosquito Commission found anopholes mosquitoes in the trap at the Nassau Swim Club which is very near the Princeton Wildlife Refuge.

The mosquito commission thereupon decided that spraying the area with pesticide was to be done at once because of the danger of malaria. A few years ago this was the accepted expected method of mosquito "control".

Biology and chemistry researchers and ecologists now know that pesticide fogging also kills beneficial insects, and often fails to control the harmful ones for more than a short time. Insects are known to become immune to these chemicals and other pesticides must be tried. This can be disastrous. Marshal Laird compares chemical control to a treadmill: "once we have set foot upon it we are unable to stop for fear of consequences".

The Princeton Township Health officer was understandably concerned or the welfare of the community. The Conservation Commission and the Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association were asked for their advice about the spraying.

Because they know spraying can be ecologically either foolish or unwise, and because the State Department of Health - as Ian Walker has already made known - told him that "There had never been an indigenous case of malaria in New Jersey," there seemed no cause for any EMERGENCY action, but, rather, a need for some immediate serious study of the situation before a decision to spray could be reached.

The Princeton Conservation Commission, who has jurisdiction over the Princeton Wildlife Refuge, and the Refuge Advisory Committee, and the Water Company, have been working for years towards a perfect Eco-system in the Refuge. It has not been done by spraying.

This done by maintaining proper water flow, control of plant growth, replenishing larvae-loving small fish - the gambusia in the marsh, and by preventing spraying of pesticides which kill only the flying mosquito adults but not the larvae - and which also kill the predators of the mosquitoes, and, eventually, killing or poisoning the food supply of our best "built-in" insect destroyers - the swallows, swifts, martins, flycatchers, and many other birds - for which the Refuge is famous.

It seems clear to me that a need for a change in our laws has been brought to light by this questionable action of the Mercer County Mosquito Commission. The State Department of Environmental Protection should have some control over the activities of the Mosquito Commission.

Surely a municipality should be EXPECTED to require an ecological study regarding any action, planned for it, which could effect its environment or change its ecology, and their decision taken into account. And, except in a real case of emergency, time should be given the municipality to make a study and reach a decision.

Such was not the case in this spraying of our Wildlife Refuge and swimming pool.

Consult Before You Spray.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

It is unfortunate that the Princeton Wildlife Refuge was needlessly sprayed with Malathion last week. Again, it is the "leap before you look" attitude that is helping to do us in environmentally.

We strongly recommend that areas proposed for spraying not be sprayed unless all the following people agree: 1) Princeton Township (or Borough) Board of Health officer;

2) Chairman of the Princeton Conservation Commission; and 3) chairman of the advisory board of the park under consideration. Hopefully, these individuals would also consult the Executive Director of the Stony Brook Millstone Watersheds Association.

Recycle Early This Saturday.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

I think many thanks are due the Conservation Coalition for operating the recyclings, the community for supporting them by bringing their cans, bottles and newspapers, and you for so ably publicizing the operation.

As a lowly volunteer, I hope that at the recycling this Saturday, the 24th, people will bring their cans and bottles and newspapers early. Hours are from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m.

Volunteers are scarce during the summer, and many of them will have been on the job since 7:30 a.m., getting set up. Clean-up and packing will take another hour after the collection is over at 10:30.

It is difficult, therefore, to have people arrive with a load at 10:45 or 11:00. I hope people will bring their recycling trash - many people - and bring it early. Thank you.

Island Beach Threatened.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Many people in Princeton, indeed, throughout New Jersey, have enjoyed Island Beach State Park. This 10-mile stretch of barrier beach is valued not only for its swimming, surfing and fishing, but also for its essential wildlife habitat.

Ironically, it is now the Department of Environmental Protection that threatens this area. The Dept. of Environmental Protection, with Governor Cahill's support, has applied to the Army Corps of Engineers to dredge a 6,000 foot long and 150 foot wide channel on the Barnegat Bay side of Island Beach State Park for a 90 to 98 boat basin.

The 130,000 cubic feet of sand and silt overburden will be used as fill. 2 bathing beaches, 2 4,000 person bath houses, snack concessions and perhaps even a fresh water swimming pool will be constructed on the fill. The development will cost $8 million. The project will require additional parking spaces and access drives, as well.

The dredge and fill operation appears to violate the recently passed and widely acclaimed Wetlands Act. Any such violation could set a regrettable precedent.

Among the questions this proposed development raises are the following:

1. Where will the $8 million come from?
 2. Wouldn't it be more appropriate to use any such available money for recreation facilities, such as a swimming pool complex, within urban areas and/or to purchase soon-to-be-lost open space?
 3. What facilities are planned for sewage treatment?
 4. What will be the environmental impact of the proposed dredge and fill operation?
 5. How will the problem of increased traffic be handled?
- People wishing to express their views on this matter are urged to write to Commissioner Richard Sullivan, Dept. of Environmental Protection, John Fitch Plaza, Trenton 08625 and to Gov. William Cahill, The State House, Trenton 08625.

One, has announced he has received a communication from Cambridge Computer Corporation purporting to unilaterally terminate the reorganization and merger agreement between the two firms and a wholly owned subsidiary of Cambridge.

Dr. Dolotta stated that the management of Princeton Time Sharing is consulting with counsel to determine what action, if any, it will take. He added that the termination of the merger agreement would not affect any of the services offered by Princeton Time Sharing.

REORGANIZATION ENDS

At New Jersey National Bank has announced that it has completed its reorganization to form a bank holding company known as NJN Bancorporation.

This reorganization will create little change in the management or daily operations of the Bank, which will now operate as a wholly-owned subsidiary of the holding company and will continue its name as New Jersey National Bank.

The primary purpose for the Bank's decision to form a holding company is to allow for further expansion efforts not available to the Bank itself. Subject to the approval of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, this will allow for the acquisition and organization of banks throughout the State of New Jersey, and the acquisition and organization of non-bank subsidiaries.

Although there are presently no specific plans for acquisitions, these might include such companies as those in the field of mortgage lending, consumer finance or leasing.

MARKS MADE DIRECTOR

At Keene Corporation. Willard A. Marks has been named director of research, engineering and development at the Keene Corporation interior systems division in Princeton.

Mr. Marks, who received his B.S. from West Point and MBA from the University of Pennsylvania, was previously owner of Integrated Ceiling Systems, a manufacturers' representative in Minneapolis. Since then he has held positions of vice-president for an acoustical contracting firm and for Cepco, Inc. of San Francisco.

TWO FIRMS HERE JOIN

In College Housing Program. Two Princeton firms, Ewing Cole Erdman & Eubank, Architects and Tecton, Inc., a building systems consulting firm, have joined two state agencies in a unique program designed to reduce boarding costs to students attending New Jersey colleges.

The plan, which hopes to utilize systems building techniques and mass buying, is being developed by the firms in concert with the State Department of Higher Education and the New Jersey Educational Facilities Authority.

The first phase got underway last week with a public invitation for building teams to submit their qualification proposal, which must be filed by July 30. These proposals will be evaluated by the Department, the Authority and the Consultants, before the second phase is advertised on August 6. Bid proposals will be received from qualifying participants in the offices of the Authority, 225 West State Street, Trenton, until 2 P.M., September 10. At this time they will be publicly opened.

A spokesman for Ewing Cole Erdman & Eubank explained that builder teams will be required to bid within the "minimum performance specifications" of the design set forth by their organization. Cost reductions will result from repetition of a basic living unit on all campuses, yet allowing flexibility of building forms and materials to relate to the aesthetic requirements on each campus.

The building team concept will be employed, which permits the design and construction to be jointly organized, utilizing a "systems" approach, which will reduce costs. It is expected that this new "team" technique will be employed initially on six campuses with 4,610 student beds. Not only are these apartments to be less expensive to the students, but they will be personal housekeeping units as opposed to the old "group living" concept.

A typical apartment will have two bedrooms, living room, bath and kitchenette. The kitchenette will be functional and enable students to do their own cooking, helping to eliminate or reduce the need for additional central dining service.

SHAREHOLDERS APPROVE

First National Affiliation. A proposed affiliation of Princeton's First National Bank with United Jersey Banks, a statewide, multibank holding company has been approved by First National shareholders. United Jersey has announced its intention of establishing a headquarters in the Princeton area.

Membership in the holding company will become effective around the first of October. Though First National Bank will keep its name, board of directors and management, the new membership will substantially increase its lending ability and range of services.

United Jersey Banks is the second largest bank holding company in the state. Four other banks in addition to the First National Bank of Princeton have also applied for membership in the holding company.

Maybe someday
the Citroen.

Maybe someday.

Maybe it depends on you.

When you demand a car, for example, that would ride like a Rolls but costs like a Chevy. One that would take curves like a Maserati but seats a five full passengers. A car that would be in every sense a luxury car—yet burns gas like a tiny Volkswagen (27 MPG).

Maybe you could get that kind of car from Detroit if you demanded it. Or you could buy one right now. It's called a Citroen. Just go to your nearest Citroen dealer and test drive it.

Learn how good other cars may someday be; and how someday is today with a Citroen.

PHILADELPHIA BEATEN
Funds Needed for Atlanta Trip. A squad of New Jersey tennis players — four from the Princeton Community Tennis Program — upset favored Philadelphia Saturday in a five-hour match at the University Courts. At stake was a trip to Atlanta, Georgia to represent the Middle States at the National City Team Championships the week of August 16.

Travel expenses for six players, an alternate and a coach will cost almost $1,000 and since the Middle Lawn Tennis Association does not support such trips, the Youth Tennis Foundation of Princeton is making a special appeal to the community for financial support. All contributions, tax deductible, should be sent to L.V. Silvester, treasurer; Youth Tennis Foundation of Princeton, Princeton Bank and Trust Company, Princeton, N.J.

The Princeton-Trenton area team, coached by Harvard sophomore and varsity tennis player, Steve Kraft, started by losing the first three singles matches. Chip Parmele lost 6-4, 6-1; Bill Schmidt lost 8-6, 6-0, and Steve Bash went down, 6-1, 6-3.

The tide began to turn when Steve Johnson, recent victor of the Middle States Clay Court 18 Championships, defeated Philadelphia's top seed, Steve Davidson, 6-3, 6-4. Next, Steve Tobolsky won in three sets, 3-6, 6-0, 6-4.

Then came a pivotal match. After being down triple match point, Danny Thompson fought back to carve out a 5-7, 6-2, 7-5 victory over Calvin Cizeh. That tied the match, 3-3, with three doubles matches yet to be played.

Philadelphia decided to concede the No. 1 doubles by playing its weakest players there, hoping to sweep the No. 2 and 3 doubles and the match.

The strategists failed when Princeton-Trenton won all three matches. Tobolsky and Thompson won easily as expected, 6-0, 6-3. In the deciding match, Schmidt and Bash won, 6-2, 7-5, and then Parmele and Johnson won, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4.

IVY INN REGAINS LEAD
Nassau-Conover Advances. In action last week in the Princeton Softball League, Ivy Inn regained the top spot and Nassau-Conover Motors, which had won only one so far, won a pair.

Ivy Inn gained at the expense of Conte's Bar which lost two last week. On Monday Brian Henninger's three-run homer highlighted a four-run Consecutive singles by Don Betterton, John Armonia and Chase produced the winning run in the game with the Hustlers. In all, Nassau collected 11 hits.

Wesley Hinds homered for the losers in the last inning to bring them within one but that was all they sent home in the inning.

In another game Monday, the Hustler's upset The Country Squire, 3-2, to tie them with Nassau-Conover at 3-8 each.

The standings:

| | W. | L. | Pct. |
|----------|----|----|------|
| Ivy Inn | 9 | 2 | .818 |
| Teague's | 8 | 3 | .727 |
| Conte's | 8 | 4 | .667 |
| Squires | 4 | 7 | .364 |

first inning for Conte's against Teague & Hinds but that was to be all for the night for the defending champion. Teague's bounced right back with five runs in the second and four more in the fourth. Jim Watts and Bill Hutton each had three hits for the Icemen. The final score was 10 to 4.

Earlier, Conte's was edged, 3-2, by Varsity Sport Shop in eight innings. Singles by Sam Proaccini, John Pesce and Jim Pirone produced the winning run for Varsity. Wayne McAteer got credit for the win.

Ed Barna batted 2-for-2 for the losers. Al Matlaok took the loss.

Meanwhile, in its only start last week, Ivy Inn blasted The Country Squire, 16-4. The Ivies, led by Tony Pirone's three hits, scored six in the first and were never headed.

Rick Embley and Larry Turner each rapped two hits for the Squires, one of Turner's a four-bagger. Dave Britton got the win, Chris Hagadorn the loss.

Nassau Conover broke out of its slump by shading Varsity Spirit, 7-6, on Monday and Grover's Hustlers, 6-5, earlier. Tom Brophy got both wins.

Bryce Chase led the Motor-men Monday with three hits and one run scored. Sam Proaccini and Bix Kroener combined for four Varsity hits.

this project," Mr. Cherry charged the Planning Board. "PCH means a major change in the life-style of the Township, a change which may contribute to urbanization, and may be a tax loss."

He demanded a referendum on the project. Without such public participation, he said, Planning Board action would show the same "arrogance and wrongful pride as recent disclosures about the Federal government and Vietnam."

Alternates to solving the housing shortage had never been considered, he continued. Conversion of large old homes, the possibility of Federal funds for Princeton Hospital employee housing and a cost-of-living stipend to teachers and police were alternatives he mentioned. He also said the PCH proposals had never been an issue in local political campaigns.

He was challenged on that remark by two Planning Board members: Borough Councilman Alice Male, a Democrat, and Township Committeeman John D. Wallace, a Republican.

Both said the PCH housing issue had been in political campaigns, and Mr. Wallace added that all Township candidates of either party were unanimous in belief that "this is in the best interest of the Township."

Mr. Cherry also questioned the priority system of selecting tenants. (Priority will be given to people who work or live in Princeton, and to people whose roots are here and are being forced by economic pressure to move.) He said priority systems may run a-foul of new state regulations. He asked how many school children the project would have, and Mr. Gershen said a maximum of 300.

Before the Zoning Board the following night, Mr. Cherry raised the same questions, adding that the procedure was "a travesty on the meaning of 'variance' since the project meant a radical change in the Township.

JUNIOR OLYMPIC CONTESTANTS: Taking part in last week's Olympic Development Meet for New Jersey Olympics for Princeton playground members are from left: Gail Waterman, 10, Elsie and Foster Schworer, 12 and 10. All are from Grover Avenue Playground which came in first with 96 points, followed by High School and Harrison Street playgrounds. Foster placed third in the softball throw for distance for Midget-Girls, and Elsie was a member of the 200-yard shuttle relay for Junior-Girls that came in second.

Because of this, he challenged the right of the Zoning Board and of Township Committee to rule on PCH and asked again for a referendum.

His chief questions, however, related to the safety of the Transcontinental Pipeline. He gave detailed figures and suggested that the board should inquire more deeply into safety factors.

After the hearing Thursday, Zoning Board members said they planned to obtain more details on the pipeline for the August 3 continuation of the hearing.

WINNERS NAMED
In Playground Jr. Olympics. Some 200 boys and girls from Princeton's nine playgrounds competed last week in the annual Olympic Development Meet for New Jersey Olympics.

Winners will advance to the state meet which will be held next Wednesday, July 28, in Elizabeth.

Contestants were broken down by age to midget boys and girls, 11 and under; junior, 12-13; and intermediate, 14-15.

First-place winners in the midget 50-yard dash were Tony Opperman and Laine Ivan; Robert Willis and Martha Grace in the softball pitch for distance; and John Boccanfuso and C.A. Mazzella in the softball pitch for accuracy.

Julietta Poventud won the standing broad jump. Among the boys, Boccanfuso and Opperman were double winners when Boccanfuso also won the softball pitch for accuracy and Opperman took the running broad jump.

In junior competition, Pat King and Claire Johnston won the softball throw for distance, while Kevin Streater and Michelle Muri triumphed in the 50-yard dash. Steve Tomlinson, Paul Soderman, Kurt Tazelaar and Craig Sensenbach won the 200-yard shuttle relay; for the girls it was Barbara Miller, Joan Richards, Eileen Robertiello and Tracy Ivan.

Peter Greiff won the running broad jump, and Jeff Petrone the basketball foul shooting contest. Bernadette Cenerino captured the standing broad jump, Julietta Poventud the softball pitch for accuracy.

Davison Double Winner. Cindy Davison won both the softball throw for distance and accuracy among the intermediate girls. Barbara Waterman won the standing broad jump and Michelle Proaccino the 75-yard dash.

Victors in the intermediate boy competition were: Fred Wilson, 10-yard dash; Alex Kinnon, running broad jump; Tony Trani, basketball foul shooting; Daren Perone, pitch for accuracy; and John Videbeck, softball throw for distance.

Final point totals for each playground were Grover 96, High School 58, Harrison 52, Littlebrook 40, Community Park 14, Erdman 7, Johnson Park 6, Marquand 5 and Riverside, 1.

30 PATIENTS MOVE IN
Princeton House Operational. About 30 patients moved in to Princeton House Tuesday and thus filled a gap in medical treatment offered by Princeton Hospital.

Princeton House is an 84-bed partial hospitalization day care center purchased by the Princeton Hospital Board of Trustees from Princeton House Company for $2.2 million. The gap that heretofore existed, as explained by Dr. Edwin C. Rogers, psychiatry department chairman, embraced the period when a patient was ready to be discharged from the hospital but not ready to be at home or work full time.

"This is the gap we can fill with this facility," he said. Dr. Rogers will serve as acting director of Princeton House until a full-time director is hired.

Located on a 10-acre lot just off Route 206 at Mt. Lucas and Herrontown Roads, the 46,000 square foot facility is 2.3 miles from Princeton Hospital. It will have a staff of 50. Four or five psychiatrists will rent office space at the facility just as specialists in various fields do at the Medical Arts Building adjacent to the hospital.

The facility is designed to offer professional, recreational and group therapy to patients suffering from mental illness, psychiatric problems and those needing rehabilitation from drugs and alcoholism.

Some will come just for a day and never really be admitted to the hospital. "The emphasis is not on filling beds as it is a program," said John W. Kauffman, executive vice-

DR. YOST TO PREACH

On Paris Peace Talks. Dr. Jack Yost, former elder of First Presbyterian Church of Princeton who now resides in Muskegon, Mich., will be the preacher at the 10 a.m. union service on Sunday of the Princeton Presbyterian Churches in St. Andrew's Church.

Dr. Yost recently went to Paris with a group of American clergymen and laymen to talk with all parties to the Vietnam negotiations. He preached on the subject in his home church following his return and has been invited to do so again at the union service.

The discussion period following the service will be devoted to "A New Look at Peace." Theodore M. Vial will preside. Dr. Yost will be a resource person.

BULLETIN NOTES

Charles A. Herrick, a graduate student at Princeton Theological Seminary, will be the preacher during the 9:30 a.m. service on Sunday at First Presbyterian Church of Dutch Neck. Younger children will leave after the children's sermon for activities in the Christian Education Building under the care of the Senior High Fellowship. Nursery care is provided.

A tribute to the theologian Reinhold Niebuhr will be given by the Rev. Robert L. Cope at the 9:30 a.m. informal service on Sunday in the Unitarian Church's small auditorium. A cookout supper at Island Beach is planned, with cars leaving the church parking lot at 1:30 p.m.

president of the hospital. He said the facility would serve the entire service area of Princeton Hospital which hospital officials estimate has a population in excess of 60,000.

Rates at Princeton house will range from $20 a day for day care to $110 a day for drug rehabilitation. It's yearly operational budget is $1.2 million. Included in that is depreciation and payment of long-term mortgage notes. "We expect this to be fully self-supporting," Mr. Kauffman said.

Will Run Jitney Service. One disadvantage of Princeton House, Dr. Rodgers pointed out, "was that we have always been warned: 'don't remove your patients from the general hospital.' It gave the doctors pause," he continued. "But when this facility became available to say it was two miles down the road and therefore no good to us was not justified."

To overcome the geographical division, the doctors plan to run a jitney service back and forth between the two facilities. "We insist that we are going to be part of Princeton Hospital and use all their wonderful facilities," Dr. Rodgers said.

Because Princeton House is non-profit, it will be removed from the Township tax rolls on January 1, 1972.

SAFETY PROGRAM SET

By Princeton First Aid Squad. The Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad is planning a free safety program for the public at 8 p.m., this Wednesday, July 28, at the Rescue Squad building on North Harrison Street and corner of Clearview Avenue.

Two films, Safe Handling of Diving Accidents and The Breath of Life will be shown and followed by a general discussion of safety techniques.

ECOLOGY CAMP ON

Through YMCA. The last session of the YMCA's Day Camp Ecology Program for boys ages six to nine will run from August 9 through 20. There are also a few openings left in the next session which is planned for July 26-August 6.

The objectives of the day camp are to help young participants gain appreciation for outdoor living and become aware of ecological measures necessary for upkeep of wild areas.

Those interested in enrolling a boy should call 924-4825 or stop by the YMCA.

VICE-PRESIDENT NAMED

At Princeton Seminary. The Rev. Richard S. Armstrong, 95 Mercer Street, since June 1968 director of development for Princeton Theological Seminary, has been promoted to vice-president for development. Seminary President James I. McCord announced today.

Mr. Armstrong, a native of Maryland, is a graduate of Princeton University, where he played varsity baseball and basketball and served as Secretary of the Undergraduate Council. His college career was interrupted by active duty in the U.S. Navy. After a year at Harvard Business School, sponsored by the Navy, he served as Disbursing Officer and later Supply Officer on the U.S.S. Chantrelle (AAIO).

Following the war he returned to Princeton and upon graduation signed with the Philadelphia Athletics. After a season in the A's farm system, he was appointed General Manager of the Portsmouth (Ohio) Baseball Club; two years later he moved to Philadelphia as Public Relations Director for the Athletics.

In 1952 Mr. Armstrong left baseball to become Copy and Plans Director for a Philadelphia advertising agency, writing, producing and directing for radio and television. Upon formation of the Baltimore Baseball Club in the Ameri-

That Grade Crossing

Penn Central is experimenting with a slowed-down "dinky" at the Faculty Road grade crossing that took two lives last winter.

In early July, according to Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley, Penn Central had the dinky's engineer make a full stop at the crossing. However, drivers seemed to be confused by the new procedure so the full stops were abandoned after a few days.

James W. Diffenderfer, in charge of passenger relations for Penn Central, announced the slow-down policy. The train will reduce speed to about 15 m.p.h., Mayor Cawley said.

can League the owners induced him to return to his home town as Public Relations Director for the Orioles.

During spring training at Daytona Beach in March 1955, Mr. Armstrong felt the call to the ministry; the following September he resigned from the Orioles to enter Princeton Seminary. Throughout his three years in Princeton he served as Assistant to the Vice-President of the Seminary in public relations and fund raising work.

Upon graduation in 1958 he was ordained by the Philadelphia Presbytery and served for ten years, until his return to Princeton Seminary, as pastor of the Oak Lane Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia.

MEETING WEDNESDAY

For Hopewell Valley Garden Club. Members of the Hopewell Valley Garden Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Walter Chartier, Wednesday, July 28, at 10 to make bedside bouquets for the hospital at Fort Dix.

Everyone is asked to bring flowers from her garden. In conjunction with the "Garden Therapy" which is four times a year, the regular executive meeting will take place.

The next monthly meeting of the club will be held August 4, at 1:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Harold Miller, Mountain View Road, Blawenburg. A representative from the Princeton Seirra Club will speak on "Conservation".

The hospitality Committee for the meeting consists of Mrs. Thomas Mowle, chairman, Mrs. Harold Miller, Mrs. David Lowe, Mrs. Henry Schussler and Mrs. Emmanuel Azara.

What You Don't See Matters — so come into the inviting foyer of this "climate controlled" nine room (4 bedroom-2½ bath) Colonial. You'll note that the living room is brightened by a classic front bay window and accented by a brick-faced fireplace; that the dining room, which is on the opposite side of the front foyer, will accommodate your family and friends most festively; that the bright and shiny kitchen will make meal preparation easy and the results inspired — sometimes. Sense the friendly informality of the family room and the useful flexibility of the den-study which converts to a fifth (1st floor) bedroom. Upstairs there are four bedrooms, two baths, and bounteous storage space. Come see and save in one of West Windsor's most interesting and attractive neighborhoods.

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP VALUE
Live in our Township's attractive country-side at a most quieting cost. This substantial two story has loads of usable space: living room with fireplace, a paneled study and separate dining room. There are three bedrooms and vast but easily accessible storage areas in the third floor attic and the full basement. A most welcome purchasing opportunity. $31,000

THINKING BIG!
Someone did it big here: 10 rooms (5 bedrooms — 2 baths on second floor) legendary joy of "a large family" a reality. From the inviting entrance foyer to the rear exit "mud room" you have bounteous but efficient space — the kitchen is 13' x 19' — the paneled family room has a fireplace, the den converts to a first floor (6th) bedroom. Be an opportunist and take immediate occupancy of this well kept Colonial which is so ideally located in friendly West Windsor Township. $57,000

NIXON TRIP TO CHINA A PLOY? Judy Kaufman (left) thinks so — the result of trying to satisfy certain elements in our society. Cathy Bower feels it is the best thing President Nixon has done and is very much in favor. More comments on Nixon's visit to Communist China below.

Question Of The Week

Question: President Nixon has commented that some people will disapprove of his announced visit to Communist China. Do you?

Where asked: Nassau Street.

Cathy Bower, Hopewell, programmer for ETS: I think it's surprising but one of the best things he's done. I'm very much in favor. I think he may accomplish more open recognition of Red China as a country and maybe its acceptance to the United Nations... and maybe even an end to the war.

Judy Kaufman, University Place, research assistant, biochemistry, Princeton University: I think it's a ploy. I think there is pressure on him to do something like this. I don't trust Nixon's attempts to satisfy certain elements of our society. It's before election time, and I know it's a cliché but things do get done before election time. Nevertheless, whatever his motivation, it has to be a good thing. It's about time we recognize Red China. Perhaps we have for a long time in an unofficial way.

Jerry Perpetua, Witherspoon Street, electrician: First of all — and they can put me away for this — I'm tired of the words "peace" and "doves." I was over there. I just don't know how you talk to those people. I'm afraid one visit isn't going to change the way they think very much. It's all right for him to go but I don't think it will accomplish anything.

Judy Batson, Loetscher Place, employee, Council of Community Services: I approve, definitely. With that many people there you can't turn your back on them. They're there! We have to recognize that. I think it is good that the President of the United States is the one who made the offer to try to bring us together.

Charles McDowell, Battle Road, Princeton University: I think it's terrific. China is the most populous nation in the world and will continue to be one of the most important nations in years to come. It is in our mutual interest to establish normal relations.

Asim Sen, Princeton Arms Apartments, research engineer: I don't disapprove. I think it is a good step toward world peace and to understanding between peoples of the world. There are 750 million people living in China; without our understanding each other we really won't achieve peace in the world. I think it is an excellent beginning. I hope this will bring world peace — politically, economically and socially.

Sandra Abel, Bank Street, graduate student, chemistry: I approve. Communist China is one of the largest powers; it is ridiculous to pretend to ignore its existence. Certainly, it is better to have some form of communication with them rather than to have them as our complete enemy. Also, I think the situation on Taiwan is not such that it should have our full support.

Tim Nuding, Princeton Junction, Swarthmore freshman: I think it's a good move. The only way we can get something done is to open up and learn to trust somebody. It would be pretty fantastic if we go anything settled, anyway. This is the only means we have.

Paul O'Donnell, Princeton Junction, student: My feeling is that even if it seems like a token gesture it's a start. In being a little friendly now it might help achieve peace later. It may seem small now, but it can't hurt.

William Blohm, Cranbury, employee, Gallup & Robinson: I think it is great for Nixon — for his ego. What it is going to do for the average American I don't think matters very much. It's great for Big Business. That's who usually benefits from things like this.

Mrs. Mary Blohm, Cranbury, employee, Applegate Florist: One question: will he be using his money or ours? Another: what is he going to accomplish in going? Is it just a diplomatic trip or will he try to make foreign policy? Or is he just going to be the first president to visit Communist China? These are all questions we don't know... and will we know when he comes back? They're not telling us anything. They're deceiving us as usual. When Kissinger was supposed to be sick he was in Peking. The deceit is shocking.

James Geoghan, Rocky Hill, student: I don't know if you could really call it a Journey for Peace as Nixon says. He's just going over there to talk but nothing is going to be accomplished. I don't think Red China is going to give. They're just putting on a political show.

"STREET SCENE"

At Washington Crossing. A Broadway folk-opera, combining the music of Kurt Weill with the poetry of the black poet Langston Hughes, will play this Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Open Air Theatre in Washington Crossing, starting at 8:30 p.m.

It's "Street Scene," an adaptation by Weill and Hughes of Elmer Rice's Pulitzer Prize drama of street life. The singers and the production come from the Princeton Opera Association.

"Street Scene" as an opera, is a musical kaleidoscope: there is a tone poem to ice-cream, and a chorale called

"The Woman Who Lived Up There," and everything else in between.

Igor Chichagov is music director and James Tushar is stage director for this production. Mr. Chichagov has been with the Princeton Opera Association since 1962, commuting from Baltimore, where he conducts for the Baltimore Civic Opera. Mr. Tushar, new to the group, has directed many musical productions.

Marie Bogant will play Anna Maurant, the middle-aged woman who seeks to escape her life through a romance with the milkman. Her husband Willie Maurant will be sung by Timothy Smith and their daughter Rosa will be Carole Peterson. Michael Carigan will sing the part of Sam Kaplan, the young law student who wants to marry Rosa.

Others in the cast are Cheryl Chang, Virginia Cole, Stanley Pilshaw, Kasia Kuklich, Janet Ostrom, Jim White, Carol Leet, Bruce Armstrong, Marjorie Schkolnick, Leon Schkolnick, Paul Brown, Mary Alice Witte, Doug Langston, Mary Eckroyd, Don Eckroyd, Herman Smith, Betty Beitz, Deborah Gardner, Albert Jansson, David Ancker, Nancy Jackson and Salvatore Maraziti.

"JOE EGG": The brutal comedy of a couple with a spastic child will be presented by Summer Intime this weekend. In this photo, the child, Joe Egg, is shown seated (Carman Apelgren). Her parents are played by Deborah Savadge and Geoff Peterson.

The program will consist of choral music from the Polyphonic Baroque, Classical, Romantic and Modern periods. Special guest artist will be violinist Nadia Koutzen. Admission is free.

"JOE EGG"

New Intime Play: An immensely funny and yet brutal comedy, "Joe Egg" will open this Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in Murray Theatre as the third in summer Intime's series of repertory offerings.

It will play again this Friday and Saturday at the same curtailtime, and on Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

"Joe Egg" is the story of a young couple, Brian and Sheila, whose daughter is a "human parsnip"—an incurable spastic. The efforts of the young parents to face the fact encompass everything from practical jokes to vaudeville routines.

There is an impossible mother-in-law, friends who want to be helpful and of course, the shadow of the couple's frustration and feeling of guilt.

The roles of the parents will be taken by Geoff Peterson and Deborah Savadge, and Joe Egg herself will be Carmen Apelgren. Mr. Peterson, SI's general manager this year, played Henry VIII in Intime's production, "Anne of the Thousand Days" with Miss Savadge as Anne. He also played Jamie Tyrone in "Long Day's Journey Into Night" and as a director, has presented Intime's "Misalliance" and "A Shot in the Dark."

Miss Savadge—who is Mrs. Peterson in real life—is in her fourth season with SI. She has played Ellie Dunn in "Heartbreak House", Alma in "The Eccentricities of a Nightingale" and appeared this summer as Lizzie in "The Rainmaker."

season for Theatre Intime in "The Physicists," "Endgame" and "Beyond the Fringe."

Others in the cast will be Shirley Kauffman as the mother-in-law and Ciulia Pagano and John Vennema as the neighbors. Mrs. Kauffman has appeared before Princeton audiences in many roles, including that of Blanche in "Streetcar Named Desire" and Eliza in "Look Homeward, Angel."

Miss Pagano has been playing Viola in the SI production of "Twelfth Night" and Mr. Vennema has played Malvolio in "Twelfth Night" and the title role in "The Rainmaker."

PICNIC THEATRE
In Princeton's Parks. Bring your own picnic supper and the whole family and stay for a 7:30 p.m. performance of two plays by the young actors of Flight Two.

The Princeton Street Theatre, sponsored by Flight Two (that's the Youth Concerns-Council of Community Services summer project) will tour Princeton next week, playing one evening in each of four parks.

Wednesday night, July 28, it will be Marquand Park; Thursday, the Harrison Street Playground; Friday, Riverside School and Saturday, the front lawn of Princeton High School. All shows will be at 7:30.

The play? Two of them: "The Ugly Duckling," adapted by A.A. Milne from the famous fairy tale, and "Wandering," a commentary on contemporary life. Both plays will be presented each evening.

Amie Brockway, director of the Princeton Street Theatre, and its workshops, has directed "The Ugly Duckling", casting Robert Little as the King; Deborah Bellow, the Queen; Kevin Colman the Chancellor; Leigh Ruderman, Princess Camilla; John Wible, Prince Simon; Sarah Wolf, Duchessella and Christopher Loye, Carlo.

The cast of "Wandering" has only three characters. David Werden is "He," Andrea Murphy is "She" and Christopher Loye is "Him." David Werden is also the director.

DIETRICH!
In Film Series. "Shanghai Express," starring Marlene Dietrich in one of her most famous roles, will be shown next Monday at 8 p.m. in McCormick Art Museum (University campus).

It's the next in Summer Intime's 1971 Film Festival. The following evening, Tuesday at

"Summer" Continues
"Summer of '42" enters its fifth week at the Princeton Playhouse, one of the few films to last for over a month in Princeton.

Manager Richard W. Knight states that only six other movies have played five consecutive weeks here: "Tom Jones," "The Graduate," "Goodbye, Columbus," "Romeo and Juliet," "M*A*S*H" and "Z."

8 p.m., SI will screen Steve McQueen in "The War Lover," written by John Hersey.

The Dietrich film, made in 1932, takes the star on the famous crack train through the countryside of pre-war China. The villainous revolutionary is Warner Oland, who went on to fame as the original Charlie Chan in the film series about the Chinese detective.

Thirty years later comes "The War Lover", made in 1962. It is a complex examination of the war hero whose talent for killing becomes an obsession.

"CARNIVAL" TO PLAY
At Clinton Summer Theatre. "Carnival", the enchanting musical comedy adapted from the movie "Lili" will be presented at the Clinton Summer Theatre, Clinton, N.J. starting Wednesday, July 28 through Sunday, August 1.

Several actors from Ithaca College will have leading roles in the play which tells the story of a simple waif who joins a travelling carnival in France and discovers that an unassuming puppeteer is worth more than a flashy magician.

Performances will begin at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday and 7:30 p.m. on Sunday. Advance reservations are urged. Tickets may be obtained by calling the theatre box office at (201) 735-5625, or by coming to the theatre at 23 West Main Street in Clinton. The next production will be "Any Wednesday" which will run August 5-8.

TOP STARS TO PERFORM
At Garden State Arts Center. A new Tom Jones show, starring the Welsh superstar, will be presented at the Garden State Arts Center through State Parkway at Telegraph Hill Park exit 116).

Jones will present a barrage of popular tunes from his 13 London Records albums, including some of the latest favorites from his current LP, "She's A Lady."

A supporting line-up will round out the Tom Jones revue. It will be headed by The Blossoms, vocal trio featured as guest artists on major TV shows; Pat Henry, comedy star; Johnny Spence, Tom's own musical conductor, and the 30-piece orchestra billed as the Jeff Sturges Universe.

Lainie Kazan to Appear. Singing star Lainie Kazan will be a special guest in The Sergio Mendes Show at the Arts Center July 29-31.

Internationally known as a spellbinder singer, she has appeared on Broadway and in "Devils" and "Lady in Cement". This will be her first performance.

IT'S NEW To Us

TAKE YOUR TROUBLES

To Princeton Repair. Small towns used to have a handyman or two that you could call on for odd jobs of repair and service. To fix the doorbell or paint the gate or put up shelves.

Three weeks ago Princeton Repair Shop opened with just this type of service in mind. Charles Pecket formerly ran Charlie's Fixit Shop in Skillman; Gerald Grover of Maple Terrace was in the construction business. Friends since Princeton High School days, they're prepared to perform a wide range of helpful jobs at moderate prices.

Princeton Repair is at 345 Witherspoon Street - in the rear next to Culligan. They will repair a bureau handle, or an air conditioner. Welding jobs are welcome - just last week they welded a child's toy truck.

They'll sharpen carving knives (35c to $1.50 depending on the size and type), or scissors (75c), lawn mower blades ($1.50), or grind the axe for you (75c to $1.25).

If you need spray painting done, give Princeton Repair a call. Or if you need to clean the attic, the cellar or the garage, call.

Princeton Repair will put your iron back into working condition for you - or mend the broken wiring in a lamp. You can have electric cords installed - if your new appliance came with a short one, or if an old cord is worn out.

Your vacuum - they'll fix it; your lawn - they'll mow it; and if the gas tank in your car leaks, they will weld a patch on to repair it.

Charlie Pecket learned air conditioner repair at the Somerset Technical School. He also studied for the past two years at the National School for the appliance trade.

Princeton Repair has two three-quarter ton Chevy trucks for light hauling jobs. Gerald Grover quotes the cost at 50 cents a mile for hauling out of town; there's a flat fee for local work.

You'll have your lawn mower repaired in two or three days, a pretty quick service. Your air conditioner can be installed or serviced.

And you can also sell your used appliances to Princeton Repair. Or if you're on the lookout for an appliance, see what they may have. Princeton Repair will buy appliances whether they work or not and recondition them for sale with a 30-day guarantee.

The variety of work you can have done ranges from having saws sharpened to radio repair, from laying tile on your floor to fixing the handle on your tea pot. Portable TV's will also be fixed.

In fact, Princeton Repair puts a 30-day guarantee on all of its repairs.

There's only one type of appliance that Charlie Pecket won't handle - that's the GE toaster ovens, because there are no spare parts for repairs on the market.

Princeton Repair Shop is open Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. until 5. The phone is 924-9044. It seems as though they'll try to mend anything but your broken dreams.

CORN COMING IN

To Peterson's Market. There's many a New Jersey family who remembers the summer drives into the country to the farmers' roadside stands.

The local store was well supplied with vegetables, but the tomatoes at the roadside stands seemed bigger and redder and richer. The melon were ripened in the fields out back and they were piled before you in fragrant heaps. The corn always had a sign over it "fresh picked this morning."

There were fat cucumbers and early squashes. Green peppers and red hot in bushel baskets. And when the peaches came in from the farmers' orchards, you had feasts at home on peach ice cream, peach melba, peach upside-down cake, peaches sliced on breakfast cereal - and simplest and most delicious of all, chilled sliced peaches served in light cream.

All of this is by way of reminding you that the marvelous New Jersey produce is beginning to come into Peterson's Market on the Lawrenceville Road between Princeton and Lawrenceville. It is one of the few roadside stands left.

Right now, you'll find fresh-cut sweet corn and slightly sandy red tomatoes - ripened in the fields and not in the carton.

We saw cukes and peppers and yellow squash as well. As the summer deepens, you'll be wise to stop by every week for fruits and vegetables for the table - or for the freezer.

We were interested to see that Peterson's Market also has an entire section devoted to plants - hanging baskets of flowering geraniums and such, as well as potted plants. For the collector of desert succulents, there are some strange varieties in tiny pots. Outdoors, we saw various evergreens with the roots burlapped, ready for planting.

Peterson's Market is open every day including Sunday from 10 a.m. until 7 p.m.

ance at the Arts Center.

The Sergio Mendes Show with Miss Kazan as special guest star will go on at 8:30 p.m. on Thursday, July 29, and at 9 p.m. on the following Friday and Saturday. Tickets for the performances are on sale at the Arts Center box office and all it outlets throughout New Jersey.

Mayfield in August, Curtis Mayfield will star in the Jose Feliciano show opening a two-performance engagement at the Center on Monday and Tuesday, August 9 and 10.

Formerly lead singer for the soul group, "The Impressions" before venturing on his own in 1970, Mayfield is also composer of the pop singles "Keep On Pushin'" and "Gypsy Woman." Generally regarded as a pop music poet, Mayfield is still writer and producer for "The Impressions." Information on all show times may be obtained by calling 201-264-2600.

SESAME STARS COMING To Arts Center. The stars of Sesame Street are coming to the Garden State Arts Center next month in "a happy time" show for families.

Loretta Long (Susan) and Bob McGrath (Bob) of television's acclaimed Sesame Street program for children will appear in three 10:30 a.m. performances of a musical and variety show called "A Happy Time" on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, August 17-19.

Chairman John P. Gallagher of the New Jersey Highway Authority, which operates the Arts Center, said the Sesame Street stars' show was added to the broadening program to provide opportunities for family attendance.

The admission prices for the Sesame Street stars' "A Happy Time" are $1, 1.50 and $2.

Tickets for "A Happy Time" can be ordered by mail from the Garden State Arts Center, P.O. Box 116, Holmdel, N.J. 07733, and will be on sale at the box office after next week.

The forenoon performances of "A Happy Time" will feature Bob and Susan of Sesame Street singing new songs specially written for their show and popular songs from their television program, as well as a parade scene with the audience children participating.

Song of Norway (now playing) is about the life of Edvard Grieg. It was shot in Norway and Denmark, in many instances in the actual buildings where the events of the Norwegian composer's life took place.

Grieg's ambition was to write "purely Norwegian music," and it flows and soars throughout the film, often paired with the majestic scenery of the country.

Each role is physically and vocally well-cast. The two best major performances are given by Torav Maurstad as Grieg, and Christina Schollin as Therese Berg, the other woman in his life. Florence Henderson, as Grieg's wife, Nina, has a lovely voice and it is believable when he tells a friend that she is "the only true interpreter of my songs." Frank Porretta also possesses a magnificent voice and gives a good performance as Grieg's friend.

The dances are exciting although they stop the natural flow of the film in several places. Roland Shaw did a magnificent job with the orchestration and conducting.

Director Andrew Stone also wrote the screen story and screen play, changing the original stage musical to emphasize Grieg's great music. The camera work by Davis Boulton is superb.

CONSTRUCTION TO BEGIN

On University Rowing Tank. Construction is expected to begin in early fall on Princeton University's long-awaited rowing tank, some five years after alumni started raising the funds which will fully cover not only the actual construction but also the installation of all operating equipment.

Recognizing the continuing need for an indoor practice facility which would enable Princeton oarsmen to participate a full-scale winter activity, the University's rowing alumni organized in 1966 a group called "A Rowing Tank for Princeton University Committee," which began to raise funds immediately toward the eventual construction of such a facility.

This all-volunteer group has assured the University's Board of Trustees that it has raised sufficient funds to complete the job, which will cost approximately $230,000, and that it will now undertake to provide annual funds for the facility's operating expenses and upkeep.

To be erected on the bank of Lake Carnegie adjacent to the 60-year-old Class of 1887 Boathouse, the rowing tank will be housed in a one-story structure measuring approximately 70 by 45 feet. The practice facility will consist of a rectangular channel accommodating two banks of eight oarsmen each, one bank for port oarsmen and the other for starboard.

Controlled water-flow through the channel, powered by a motor-driven paddle wheel, will enable the coaches to simulate various rowing conditions while conducting drills. This feature of the facility will enable both the novice and the experienced oarsman to benefit simultaneously from practices.

Use of the tank allows the coaches to be "right in the boat" with the rowers rather than in a separate trailing launch as is the case on the lake. Freshmen beginning crew will be "broken to harness" during the winter and in the spring will no longer be handicapped when placed in shells with more experienced oarsmen.

In addition to the improved and realistic conditions under which novices can be introduced to the techniques of rowing, the tank will provide a continuity of physical conditioning and smoothness while Lake Carnegie is frozen over. Many rowing observers feel that part of Harvard's consistent excellence in rowing, as well as strong showings over the past 15 years by other eastern crews, are attributable to the use of rowing tanks.

Moves to create such a facility at Princeton date back into the 1950's but the impetus necessary to produce results stemmed from the formation of the alumni committee in 1966 under the leadership of Winthrop Rutherford '28, of New York City, chairman; Gordon G. Sikes '16, of Princeton, honorary chairman; Donald L. Marsh '68, of Piscataway, N.J., president of the Princeton University Rowing Association; and Macpherson Raymond '40, of Princeton, chairman of the Alumni Council Committee on Athletics.

The tank has been reviewed and approved by the Princeton Regional Planning Board and its Environmental Review Committee. Consulting engineers for the project are Louis T. Klander and Associates, of Philadelphia.

SEMINARY GETS GRANT

To Support Lecture Series. The Grants Committee of the S&H Foundation Lectureship Program has announced an award of $2,000 to Princeton Theological Seminary in support of a series of public presentations on Technology and the Future of Man. Disclosure of the award was made by Professor William E. Buckler of New York University, Executive Secretary to the Foundation, an organization supported by the Sperry and Hutchinson Company.

In accepting the grant, one of 35 given to institutions across the country, Seminary President James I. McCord stated that the lectures will focus on the church and society study the Central Committee of the World Council of Churches will make during the next five years.

The lecture seminar series will emphasize the question of science and the quality of life, including problems of discovery in biological sciences, ecology and demography; political and economic choices in a technological age, including the uses to which new technology is put, the role of social planning and the change of socioeconomic power structures; and images of the human future which may inspire and determine the direction of human actions and hopes.

Administration of the program will be under the care of Seminary faculty members: Hugh T. Kerr, Benjamin B. Warfield, Professor of Systematic Theology; Samuel W. Blizard, Maxwell M. Upson, Professor of Christianity and Society; Dean R. Hoge, Assistant Professor of Christianity and Society; and Thomas I. Day, Department of Theology.

The series will be given at two-week intervals, probably in February, March and April. Announcement of definite dates, times and places will be

CAR BUFFS GET READY
New Hope Auto Show Coming. The Fourteenth Annual New Hope Automobile Show, the largest and most complete automobile show in the country, will take place this year on Saturday and Sunday, August 14 and 15, on the grounds of the New Hope-Solebury High School, Route 202, New Hope, Pa.

The auto show is sponsored by the New Hope-Solebury Community Association, a non-profit organization which uses the proceeds to implement their educational and recreation programs for children and adults in the area.

There will be twenty judging divisions this year. Saturday's judging will cover Antique, Auburn-Cord-Duesenberg, Bugatti, Corvette, Kaiser-Frazer, Lincoln Continental, MC Register (through 1955 TF), Sports Cars and Thunderbird.

Get Your Tin Cans Ready!

The Conservation coalition is readying its Saturday recycling plans in hopes of a big turnout at the parking lot off Faculty Road.

Those participating are urged to bring their separated collections of tin and hi-metal, aluminum, brown, green and clear glass and bundled newspapers as close as possible to the 8:30 a.m. starting time.

Volunteers are urged to help in the collection which ends at 10:30 a.m. sharp.

Divisions judged on Sunday will be: Jaguar, Classic cars, Custom cars - High Performance, Ferrari, Antique Trucks and Fire Engines, Model "A" Ford Plymouth, Rolls-Royce and Bentley, Packard and Vintage Chevrolet. There will also be a special interest division on both days, plus a gas economy run on Sunday.

Trophies will be awarded to the winners in all divisions as well as the mileage rally. New this year will be the Governor's Cup Award, presented to the finest restored antique car (Best of Show) in the Antique Division.

Anyone interested in entering a car in the show may write for a free entry blank to Marie Cosner, "New Hope Automobile Show", Mechanicsville, Pa. 18934. Each entrant will receive a handsome dash plaque for his car.

The show's famous automotive Flea Market will be open both Saturday and Sunday. Show grounds open to the public at 10 a.m. each day. Admission is $1.25 for adults, with children under twelve admitted free.

Y FUN CLUBS TO BEGIN

This Monday and Tuesday. The Princeton YMCA has planned a series of fun clubs for five and six year old girls and boys to start this Monday and Tuesday.

Featured in the program which will run in two, two and a half week sessions, Monday and Wednesday from 9-11 a.m. and Tuesday and Friday from 9-11 a.m. will be swimming, trampoline, art and story time. Any parent who would like to register children for the clubs should come to the Princeton YMCA. Each program is limited to 15 children.

SECOND SESSION SET

For YMCA Toddlers School. The second four-week summer session of the YMCA Toddlers School begins Monday, and runs thru Friday, August 20. Registration for boys and girls 3, 4, and 5 years of age are being accepted for either three or two mornings a week.

Classes are conducted from 9:15 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. by Mrs. Gale Scarzafava assisted by Pamela Sorg. Fifteen children will be accepted for each session.

The summer program includes pre-school preparation utilizing a variety of program activities including arts, crafts, dramatics, story hour, group play and field trips.

BAND CONCERT PLANNED

For this Friday Evening. The Princeton Community Band will present the first of its summer concert series at 8 p.m., this Friday, on the front campus of Princeton High School.

Selections for the program will be drawn from Broadway shows, the classics, and contemporary pieces. Anyone interested in playing with the band throughout the summer should contact director George W. Soete at 921-7519.

WILLIAMS PUSHES BILL

To Aid Urban Housing. U.S. Senator Harrison A. Williams, Jr., (D-NJ) has introduced a bill designed to help state government finance $2 billion in urban housing construction and rehabilitation.

Williams, a member of the Senate Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs, said the bill would "show the deep commitment which exists in the Senate to assist the emerging efforts of the states in the development and operation of meaningful community development programs."

The bill would allow the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Affairs to guarantee bonds sold on the "taxable" bond market by state housing finance agencies. The guarantees would be limited to $2 billion in bonds outstanding at any one time.

"These state housing agencies," Williams explained in remarks prepared for delivery on the Senate floor, "sell obligations and re-lend their money to banks, developers or directly to construction firms at or below the going market rate. In addition, they usually maintain a revolving fund for land acquisition purposes."

"State housing finance agencies are important to the development of our urban areas for a number of reasons," Williams continued. "First, they can borrow money at lower rates than private developers and thus are able to subsidize their projects to a greater extent. Second, as an existing state agency, they have a stronger base from which to negotiate with other public agencies for the timely introduction of essential public services than do private and non-profit the administrative and operating costs of state agencies during their first three years of operation. Such agencies are now in existence in many states, including New Jersey, and others are considering establishing them."

The bill would create specific criteria which a state agency must meet before it would be eligible for Federal assistance. Among them would be a requirement that the agencies be capable of providing, "decent, safe and sanitary housing and related facilities for low and moderate-income persons."

The state agencies would also have to have the authority to "revitalize slums and blighted urban neighborhoods," and to "develop job opportunities for unemployed and underemployed persons through the development of new, and the redevelopment of existing, industrial manufacturing and commercial facilities."

During the last Congress, Williams noted, similar legislation was enacted as part of the Housing and Urban Development Act, but it was limited to the construction of "new communities."

PEOPLE In The News

John L. Scanlon, son of Mrs. Norma Ferrara, 58 Dorann Avenue, has been named to the dean's list at the University of Arizona, College of Liberal Arts in Tucson, Ariz.

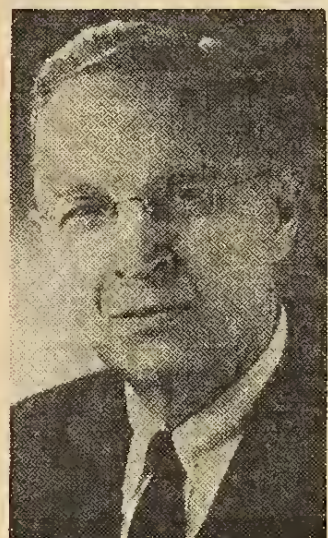

Lucy D. Stover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Stover, Province Line Road, has been cited with dean's list recognition at Briarcliff College, Briarcliff Manor, N.Y. Miss Stover is a 1970 graduate of Princeton Day School.

David G. Buchanan, 50 Van Kirk Road, associate professor and division chairman of applied science and technology at Camden County College, is guest lecturing at an Educational Systems and Information Processing seminar at Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa.

During the seminar, Dr. Buchanan will join a team of several visiting professors in lecturing on the basic principles of systems analysis, information processing, cost analysis, and conversion of system.

Ronald E. Enstrom, 12 Sycamore Lane, Skillman, has been named to the Educational Council of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass.

Along with six other Council members, Mr. Enstrom, a materials scientist at R.C.A. Laboratories in Princeton and 1957 graduate of MIT, will work as an educational counselor for secondary schools and community youth organizations.

Dr. J. Douglas Brown, 6 Edgell Street, dean of the faculty and provost of Princeton University, emeritus, has been named one of the three new trustees for Princeton Theological Seminary.

Dr. Brown, who has completed all his undergraduate work at the University, also holds honorary degrees from Rutgers University, Kenyon College, Union College and Franklin and Marshall College. Before joining the staff at Princeton University, Dr. Brown served in a number of governmental positions including: President's Emergency Committee for Employment, 1930; Federal Advisory Council on Social Security, 1937; War Production Board, 1941-42; War Manpower Commission, 1942-45.

He has also been involved with several later agencies for social security and employment security for the government. At Princeton University Professor Brown moved from director of the industrial relations section to dean of the faculty where he served for two decades.

Two Princeton residents have received undergraduate degrees from Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa.

Both John D. McKeever, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. McKeever, 52 Dodds Lane; and Graham Rohrer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Graham Rohrer, 45 Princeton Avenue were awarded BA degrees in history.

William R. Watt, Montgomery Road, Princeton Junction, has been named representative for Mercer County to the executive committee of the New Jersey School Boards Association for the coming school year.

Previously a member of the West Windsor-Plainsboro Board of Education, Mr. Watt will aid in directing the activities of the Association and carrying out policy established by the Delegate Assembly.

Mr. Watt is a research chemist for American Can Company in Princeton. He has also served on the legislative committee of the NJSBA, Stony Brook district of the Boy Scouts of America, West Windsor Neighborhood Association, and the West Windsor PTA where he was president for the 1969-70 school year.

President Nixon has commissioned Martin McLean, 224 B Eisenhower, a Foreign Service Officer of the United States. The oath of office was taken at a ceremony in the Department of State, in the presence of Deputy Under Secretary William B. Macomber, Jr.

Mr. McLean received this appointment after successfully completing highly competitive written and oral examinations. Within a few weeks, he will be assigned either to a United States Embassy or Consulate in one of the more than 100 countries with which the United States maintains diplomatic relations, or to the Department of State headquarters here.

Mr. McLean was graduated from the Pingry School in Elizabeth, New Jersey. He received a B.A. from Williams College in 1966, and an M.A. from Princeton University (Woodrow Wilson School) in 1971. From 1967-1969, Mr. McLean served with the U.S. Navy and was stationed in Scotland.

Jeffrey McClenahan, Harris Road, Princeton Junction, has been named to the dean's list at Rutgers University.

POST 76 GAINS

In Junior Baseball, Post 76 won a pair of games last week, one the first loss sustained by Engine Co. 1, to advance to within a half-game of the top in the Princeton Youth Baseball Association's junior division.

Paul Soderman struck out 12 in pitching Post 76 to its big win over No. 1, a 4-2 triumph. Losing pitcher Ed Frick fanned 11. Ken Bartolino had a pair of doubles and a single at the plate for 76. Scott Trani also had a double. Bob Willis doubled for the losers.

Bartolino and Soderman then teamed to rout Italian-American Sportsmen's Club, 19-10. Bartolino wiffed 15 and gave up five hits on the mound while Soderman homered and rapped two singles to provide the power. Bartolino made sure by also homering and singling. Trani chipped in with a double and single.

Earlier, No. 1 blanked the Elks behind the no-hit pitching of Jim LaPlaca and Ed Frick. LaPlaca hurled four perfect innings, striking out 10; Frick completed the no-hitter with three strikeouts.

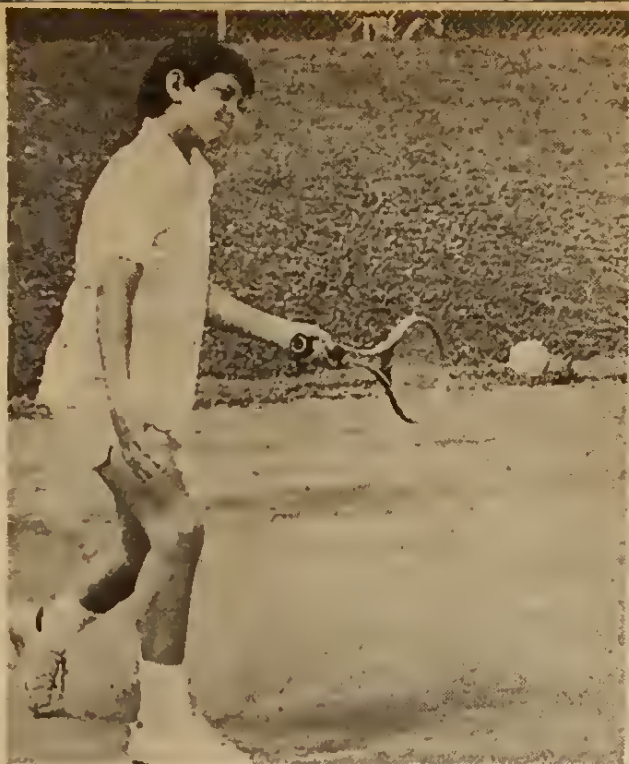

LaPlaca (three bagger), Bob Willis, Bob Mangone and Marty Gilvar all connected for No. 1.

The Eagles won two games to stay in contention. Dana Nini beat No. 3, 8-1, striking out seven and getting two hits. He was touched for one hit—a double by Mike Boonin.

Joe Herrmann hit for the circuit and John Silverman contributed two hits to the Eagle attack.

Silverman was the winning pitcher in the Eagles' 10-6 win over Roma Eterna. Herrmann hit another homer in going 2-for-4 at the plate. McCarthy, Silverman, Nini and Keith Wadsworth combined for six hits.

Engine No. 3 raked Hook &

Ladder for 15 hits and a 19-7 win. Dave Shillager had a homer, double and single, while winning pitcher Mike Boonin had three hits, including a double and triple.

In other games, Roma Eterna defeated the Sportsmen Club and Elks walloped Hook & Ladder, 14-4. Howie Brooks had two hits, including a three run homer for the Elks. Teammates Mark Lovering and Tony Opperman combined for five more.

NASSAU TOPS PENNBROOK

Beats Ravine in Swim Meets. In a meet, the outcome of which hung on the final relay race, the Nassau Swim Club defeated Pennbrook of Penn- ington last week, 131-120. Earlier it defeated Ravine, 131-105. Its record is now 4-1.

Members of winning relays against Pennbrook were Val Van Horn, Elizabeth Langridge, Barbara Van Horn and Tory Garvey in the 8 and under 100-yard free relay: Scott Kelly, Jim Lugannani, Marc Coulin and Tom Bolster in the same race for boys 12 and under.

Victors in the girls 17 and under 200-yard relay were Lise Kauzmann, Abby Wilson, Laura Tignor and Carrie Bolster. For the boys: Pierre Coulin, Eric Kauzmann, Joe Bolster III and Andy Bolster.

Double winners were Val Van Horn, Marc Coulin and Carrie Bolster. Other winners were Gretchen Dobrott, Cindy Dreyhaupt, Eric Kauzmann, Tom and Andy Bolster.

Double winners against Ravine included Marc Coulin, Tom, Mary, Andy and Carrie Bolster. Nina Jahn, Martha Bolster, Val Van Horn and Gretchen Dobrott captured single races.

Lugannani, Coulin, Gerald Garvey and Tom Bolster won the 12 and under 10-yard medley. Carrie Kidd, Carrie Bolster, Abby Wilson and Lise Kauzmann captured the 200-yard medley relay in the 17 and under bracket.

PBA, BANK TIED

In Senior Baseball Division. The Patrolmen's Benevolent Association and Princeton Bank & Trust are tied in the Princeton Youth Baseball Association's senior division with 5-2 records. Thorne's is 3-4; New York Life is 1-6.

PBA's John Mooney was engaged in a pitcher's duel and a slugfest last week and won them both. He lifted a Texas-leaguer in the seventh to win his own game against Thorne's a 2-1 decision over Mike Barren. Mooney gave up just three hits — one each to Barren, Dan Muri and Pete Newirth.

Later, New York Life scored six runs in the second off Mooney to force his departure, but Mooney still got credit for the win when his teammates chased three New York Life hurlers en route to an 18-6 triumph. George Reynolds took the loss. Bob McHugh saved the win for Mooney.

King Fans 20. Bob King was overpowering in pitching Bank & Trust to an 8-2 decision over NYL. He fanned 20 in going the distance and besting Tom Stanga.

Norman El Meligi pitched the last inning for the losers.

LUCAR HARDWARE VICTOR

In West Windsor Playoffs. Lucar Hardware has won the season championship in the West Windsor Babe Ruth Baseball League.

In the second-half title game, Lucar overcame a two-run first inning lead to defeat the Lions, 6-4. After falling behind, Lucar pecked away at Lion hurler Larry Martz to build a 6-2 lead. The losers rallied for two more runs in the last inning but were stopped short by winning pitcher Gary Fowler.

Lucar, which has also won the first half, is managed by Andy Drummond.

The second half ended in a three-way tie among Lucar, the Lions and Harbort Air Freight.

The Lions were instrumental in forging the deadlock when they defeated the league-leader, Harbort, 8-6, behind the pitching of Martz, and then walloped Will's Shell, 14-4. Earlier Lucar had stopped Will's 16-4.

The draw sent the Lions against Harbort and they won easily, 8-1. Ted Servis got the win.

GREEN UPSETS RED

In Overtime, 10-9. Three Green players — far from green in ability — combined to upset previously unbeaten Red last week in the Princeton Summer Lacrosse League.

A sudden death, five-minute overtime was forced when the game ended in a 9-9 tie. It ended when Green's Tony Reish fed Keith VanArtsdalen for the winning goal. Reish had three goals and two assists, while VanArtsdalen had three tallies. Bob Wagner was a constant thorn against Red, scoring four times and adding three assists.

Mike Skinner, four goals, and Mike Cleary, two, led Red's attack. Pat Connolly, Andy Houston and Scott VanArtsdalen had single tallies.

Navy was sunk single-handedly by the Blue's Coley Donaldson who scored seven goals.

BEDENS SWIMMERS SPLIT

Still 3-0 in League. The Bedens Brook Swim Club split two meets last week, losing its second of the season to Ben Franklin Monday and earlier defeating Crosswicks, 157-100.

Despite the loss, Bedens remains in first place in section two of the Princeton Area Swimming and Diving Association. Crosswicks is second with a 2-1 mark.

Instrumental in the win over Crosswicks were Billy Ross, Diana Caskey, Jamie Bird, Virginia Davlin, Jane Henderson, Lee Ross, Ned Harvey, Cort Cunningham, Jennifer Dyckman, Mark Silverman, Mike Hill, Cyra Cain, Kathy Burks and Sue Ross.

ASTRO NIPS CITIES

Leads by Half a Game. RCA Astro nipped slumping Cities Service, 13-12, and took a half game lead in the western division of the Business Softball League over idle RCA A. In the east, McGraw-Hill continued to hold a one-game advantage over ETS.

Astro's triumph wasn't without its anxious moments, as it blew a 12-4 lead and had to score a run in the eighth to win. Marv Kravitz, John Kovick and Tom Young led the winner's attack. Finding itself down by eight runs early in the game. Cities took advantage of all the breaks and Astro mistakes to knot the score at 12 apiece at the end of seven innings.

Aided by a 6-4-3-5 triple play with the bases loaded, McGraw-Hill handed Shearer Tree its 12th consecutive loss. John Johnson belted two home runs. Dick McDouglas, one, and Bill McDade had four hits for McGraw.

ETS's Bones Gilbert held RCA B to six scattered hits, while his teammates got 12 in a 13-3 triumph over RCA B. Will Lane had two doubles and three RBI's. Willie Turner collected a double and a triple and Bill Degler had a pair of doubles.

In other games, Cyanamid squeaked by ERC, 12-11, FMC defeated IDA, 9-3, and Hopewell beat Firmenich, 13-11.

UNSEEDER PLAYER WINS

In YMCA Women's Singles.

Unseeded Maree Schacht, a young tournament player from Australia, captured the YMCA Women's Singles title with a 6-3, 6-1 triumph over the defending champion and No. 1 seed Carla Gaiser of Trenton.

Miss Schacht's net play, drop shots and superb placements were too much for her opponent. Another upset occurred in the quarter finals when 17-year-old Terry Blake of Lawrenceville defeated the No. 2 seed, Sheila Jamison of Lahaska, Pa., who is ranked 25th in the Women's Middle States Lawn Tennis Association. The score was 1-6, 6-4, 6-1.

Miss Schacht beat Miss Blake in the semi-finals, 6-3, 6-2, and Carla Gaiser knocked out No. 3 seed Peggy Beckleman from Neshaminy Tennis Club, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5.

In the consolation tournament, Sue Musselman of Blawenburg defeated Michael Thompson of Australia, 6-4, 6-0.

Have two doors kept you out of a Volkswagen?

Don't answer yet.

The car in the picture is a Volkswagen. And, as you can see, it has four doors. It's our new 411 4-Door sedan.

Like most 4-door sedans, our 411 gives the people in the back almost as much room as the people in the front.

Unlike most 4-door sedans, though, there's also room for luggage in the front as well as in back.

Like most 4-door sedans, our 411 has an engine.

Unlike most 4-door sedans, our engine gets about 22 miles to the gallon.

Like most 4-door sedans, our 411 offers a lot of options. Automatic transmission, radial tires, rear-window defogger, to name a few.

Unlike most 4-door sedans, those options are included in the price of the car, $3149*

Holly Burko and Buff Burchfield were runners-up.

TROPHIES PRESENTED

To West Windsor League Champs. The West Windsor Little League baseball teams ended their playing season with a presentation of title trophies to members of the First National Bank of Princeton, the winning team.

Approximately 225 boys took part in the West Windsor Little League this season. Activities ended when the third and deciding play-off game was won by the First National Bank players, earning them the championship for the second consecutive year.

Other teams in the League were Craft Cleaners, Ellsworth A. C., Thornes Pharmacy, Wasco Builders, RCA Labs and Harbort Air Freight Service, Inc.

Graduation certificates were presented to the following: Mike Barden, David Bronheimer, Jeff Boyer, Lucas Campbell, Chris Fogelin, T. J. Fulton, Rick Gallagher, Ray Garrett, David Goldstein, Mark Gredy, Eric Haring, Stephen Hurlburt, Steve Ivey, John Kapp, Scott Kelly and Mickey Kodner.

Certificates also went to Richard Levine, Jeffrey McDermott, Brian McKnight, Marty Mockler, David Nuding, Richard Palaro, Deane Perone, Rusty Prickett, Jeffrey Rosko, Dave Shaddow, David Silvester, Jim Snedeker, Steve Solarski, Danny Tatum, Tim Watt and Ron Westlund.

COLSON NAMED CAPTAIN

Of University Tennis Team. William R. Colson of Coral Gables, Fla., one of the top-rated Eastern amateurs, has been reelected captain of Princeton University's varsity tennis team. The 21-year old junior paced his Tiger team to a record of 12-1 this spring and to the championship of the Eastern Intercollegiate Tennis Association.

Loser of but two dual matches during the past season. Colson last month added the championship of the New York State Men's Tournament to his individual honors, defeating ninth ranked Steve Ross of Brooklyn. Earlier, the Nassau captain had won the title at both the Class "A" Easterns at West Point and the Concord Hotel Winter Tournament.

A graduate of Coral Gables High School, he will be joined next year on the Princeton varsity by his brother, Deane, who was a key member of the undefeated Orange and Black freshman team this spring. The Tiger captain, studying in the English Department, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Colson of 1218 Coral Way, Coral Gables, Fla.

TRACK CAPTAIN ELECTED

At Princeton. John S. Oyler of Biglerville, Pa., has been elected to the captaincy of Princeton University's 1971-72 varsity track team. The 21-year old middle distance runner succeeds weightman Joseph O'Hern as Tiger varsity leader.

Christian B. Elliot of Wyckoff, N. J. was elected honorary captain of the 1970-71 freshman track team at Princeton at the conclusion of the spring season.

Oyler, a graduate of Biglerville High School where he was captain of both the cross country and track teams, has earned varsity letters at Princeton in the same sports. As a Tiger freshman, he was captain of the track team.

The 5-10, 146-pound Nassau captain-elect specialized in the 1000-yard run during the indoor season and in the 880 during the outdoor campaign. His top performance came against Yale this spring when he captured the half-mile event to spark the Tigers to a 86-68 victory.

The son of Dr. and Mrs. James R. Oyler of Biglerville, Pa., Oyler is a student in the Politics Department at Princeton.

Elliot, a standout miler both indoors and outdoors the past year, swept his event in each of the clubs' six spring meets and was the chief point-producer for his team. Active in track and basketball at Ramapo High School in Franklin Lakes, the freshman miler captained the track team there in his senior season.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Elliot of 486 Weymouth Drive, Wyckoff, he was the winner this spring of the Jeremy Glenn Babb Memorial Trophy in freshman track for contributions to the sport through influence, performance and sportsmanship.

GREEN ACRES GOLF COURSE

Surround yourself with trees, grass and history.

There's plenty of all three on what may be the highest spot between New York and Philadelphia. Certainly it's one of the most historic, if not the most beautiful. Just 15 homes will be custom built from your plans or ours abutting Greenacres Country Club Golf Course. Each will share in a sweep of common land . . . and in views and privacy all but vanished these days. Isn't all this worth $50,000 or more?
